Arab-Islamic Education Systems in the Experience of Migrants and Refugees in Europe Sara Mazzei, 2025-03-15 In the last decade Europe has welcomed numerous migrants and refugees from Arab countries Their scholastic inclusion has been challenging and the teaching staff had to sometimes deal with unfamiliar realities The issue has been addressed by various perspectives from sociology to psychology insights from which are gathered in intercultural education In it there are scarcity of studies that delve into pupils cultural backgrounds and countries of origin s history is seldom regarded as a decisive factor in the formation of identity Among Arabic speaking communities the Moroccan and Syrian ones are the most significant and Morocco and Syria have interesting histories and education systems Using Nussbaum s 2010 multifactorial analysis this research aims to better understand the educational universe where Arabic speaking pupils come from focusing on humanities and religious education in the experience of pupils especially from Morocco and Syria Methodology comprehends qualitative empirical research conducted in Europe Results show the differences experienced by pupils in their educational paths among diverse Arab and European countries and the more sensitive topics they encounter in their education in Europe in relation to their identity African Cultural Personalities in a World of Change Ikechukwu Anthony Kanu, Ejikemeuwa J. O.

Ndubisi, Kanayo Nwadiolor, 2018-08-16 This notwithstanding over the years the African culture in all its manifestations became the bulls eye for attack especially during the Atlantic Slave Trade Colonialism Racism During these periods Europe dealt coup de grace to the African personality to his is ness by destroying the African cultural values They disrespected African peculiarities languages enriched with traditions of centuries parables many of them the quintessence of family and national histories modes of thought influenced more or less by local circumstances local poetry which reveals the profundity of African literary wizardry A lot of these were altered against the background that the African in all his susceptibilities is an inferior race and that it is needful to give him a foreign model beacon to emulate and follow In our time of globalization bringing about a new sweep of changes on the African cultural values a more careful historically grounded interpretation of the cultural changes occurring on the continent is therefore needed and for it to be useful it should enable us to transcend the narrow and narrowing parameters that currently dominate the discourse on the processes and structures of change occurring in contemporary Africa This piece is a great accomplishment by African scholars to do a grounded hermeneutics of the structures of changes taking place in Africa The different chapters are the fruits of the 2018 International Conference of the Association for the Promotion of African Studies APAS The authors like artists combine originality with insightful imagination They have carefully treated the historical conceptual basic and substantive issues in cultural change in Africa Their coherent systematic and encyclopedic approaches have the capacity to expand the intellectual and professional horizon of its readers Equiano and Anti-slavery in Eighteenth-century Belfast Nini Rodgers,2000 The celebrated freed slave Olaudah Equiano visited Ireland in 1791² and was welcomed particularly in Belfast Long standing radical rhetoric about the political slavery of Ireland was now and in the context of the Rights of Man applied specifically to oppressed peoples whether black or Catholic And yet Belfast's commercial and industrial advance a major trigger of radical self assertion was intimately linked to trade and connections with the slave economies of the West Indies Nini Rodgers with her wide ranging interest in the history of slavery and its role in the Atlantic economy is well equipped to move beyond the black and white simplicities of a purely parochial portrayal of Belfast's role in slavery issues The Caribbean Oral Tradition Hanétha Vété-Congolo,2016-10-27 The book uses an innovative prism of interorality that powerfully reevaluates Caribbean orality and innovatively casts light on its overlooked and fundamental epistemological contribution into the formation of Caribbean philosophy It defines the innovative prism of interorality as the systematic transposition of previously composed storytales into new and distinct tales The book offers a powerful consideration of the interconnections between Caribbean orality and Caribbean philosophy especially as this pertains to aesthetics and ethics This is a new area of thought a new methodological approach and a new conceptual paradigm and proposition to scholars students writers artists and intellectuals who conceive and examine intellectual and cultural productions in the Black Atlantic world and beyond Our Common Manners and Customs as Hebrew Peoples Nkem Emeghara,2018-05-23 Dr Ola Uduh literal meaning Judah's offering or Judah's ornament Equiano possibly ekwe alu a was right when he identified his Eboe people as presenting same manners and customs as the Israelites of the old times as illustrated in the book of Leviticus This study attempts to be an evidence to this assertion It is a product of a research that began since 1983 and is barely concluded in 2018 The reader would readily realize that the research on this topic has only begun Changes modifications and even eliminations of manners and customs of people through the generations make continuation of this study inevitable This would be especially expected when examining ancient cultural issues today Although the study did not strictly begin as another attempt to prove the identity of the Ibos as the Jews enunciated in the Old Testament designation of the children of Jacob it has however added a relevant credence to that fact Some of the manners and customs examined include similarities in the use of words and meanings ritual practices beliefs personal attributes and aspirations that are common to the Eboe Heeboe Ibu Ibo Igbo peoples and the ancient Israelites The book is basically a call for individual and collective reinvention of Eboes and indeed worldwide Jews for collective survival in a hostile world The book interprets a true present day Hebrew as the true worshipper of the I am that I am the G d of our fathers who singled out Abraham and Jacob our common ancestral fathers and chose them for a mission to the world The book finally suggests a version of Christianity centered on Yeshua Jesus the Christ and his message in the New Testament a version of Christianity that would include relevant aspects of our omenala law among other recommendations This is a book no one should ignore as it should be an eye opener to the facts relevant to finding the solution to a long standing identity crisis of the Eboe people Beyond Douglass Michael J.
