American Shoemaking, 1929 American Theatre Ensembles Volume 1 Mike Vanden Heuvel, 2020-11-12 Across two volumes Mike Vanden Heuvel and a strong roster of contributors present the history processes and achievements of American theatre companies renowned for their use of collective and or ensemble based techniques to generate new work This first study considers theatre companies that were working between 1970 and 1995 it traces the rise and eventual diversification of activist based companies that emerged to serve particular constituencies from the countercultural politics of the 1960s and examines the shift in the 1980s that gave rise to the next generation of company based work rooted in a new interest in form and the more mediated and dispersed forms of politics Ensembles examined are Mabou Mines Theatre X Goat Island Lookingglass Elevator Repair Service and SITI Company Preliminary chapters provide a sweeping overview of ensemble based creation within the general historical and cultural contexts of the period followed by a detailed study of the evolution of ensemble based work The case studies consider factors such as influence funding production and legacies as well as the forms of collective devising and creation while surveying the continuing work of significant long running companies Contributors provide detailed case studies of the 6 companies from the period and cover A chronicle of development and methods Key productions and projects Critical reception and legacy A chronological overview of significant productions From the long history of collective theatre creation with its sources in social crises urgent aesthetic experimentation and utopian dreaming American ensemble based theatre has emerged at several key points in history to challenge the primacy of author based and director produced theatre As the volume demonstrates US ensemble companies have collectively revolutionized the form and content of contemporary performance influencing experimental as well as mainstream practice Vocational Division Bulletin United States. Division of Vocational Education, 1944 The Saturday Evening Post, 1906 Becoming Past Jane Blocker, 2015-12-20 Is there such a thing as contemporary art history The contemporary after all as much as we may want to consider it otherwise is being made history as it happens By what means do we examine this moving target These questions lie at the center of Jane Blocker's Becoming Past The important point is not whether there is or should be contemporary art history Blocker argues but how Focusing on a significant aspect of current art practice in which artists have engaged with historical subject matter methods and inquiry Blocker asks how the creation of the artist implicates and interrogates that of the art historian She moves from art history to theater to performance and to literature as she investigates a series of works including performances by the collaborative group Goat Island the film Deadpan by Steve McQueen the philosophies of science fiction writer Samuel Delany and documentary filmmaker Ross McElwee the film Amos Fortune Road by Matthew Buckingham and sculptures by Dario Robleto Many books have sought to understand the key directions of contemporary art In contrast Becoming Past is concerned with the application of art history in the pursuit of such trends Setting the idea of temporality decisively in the realm of art Blocker's

Embodiment and Disembodiment in Live Art Ke Shi, 2019-12-06 Liveness is a pivotal issue for performance theorists and artists As live art covers both embodiment and disembodiment many scholars have emphasized the former and interpreted the latter as the opposite side of liveness In this book the author demonstrates that disembodiment is also an inextricable part of liveness and presence in performance from both practical and theoretical perspectives By applying phenomenological theory to live performance the author investigates the possible realisation of aesthetic dynamics in live art via re engagement with the notions of embodiment especially in the sense provided by philosophers such as Gabriel Marcel and Morris Merleau Ponty Creative practices from leading performance artists such as Franko B Ron Athey Manuel Vason and others as well as experimental ensembles such as Goat Island La Pocha Nostra Forced Entertainment and the New Youth are discussed offering a new perspective to re frame human human relationships such as the one between actor and spectator and collaborations in live genres In addition the author presents a new interpretation model for the human material in live genres helping to bridge the aesthetic gaps between performance art and experimental theatre and providing an ecological paradigm for performance art experimental theatre and live art

Staging Process Rachel Anderson-Rabern, 2020-02-15 Staging Process examines contemporary collective creation practices with particular focus on the work of four third wave American performance ensembles Goat Island Elevator Repair Service Nature Theater of Oklahoma and the TEAM The book examines ways in which these groups create blueprints for developing collaborative performance entwining methodology with emerging performance aesthetics Rachel Anderson Rabern explores the ideas of boredom and quotidian employment that permeate particular performance projects Using Henri Lefebvre s concepts of work roles within everyday philosophy she demonstrates that collective creation gives rise to new economies of performance The book also presents theories of the political stakes of danced gestural forms in performance informed by Giorgio Agamben s writings on gesture and elaborates the ways in which these ensembles make use of durational performance to posit ethical frameworks ways of living in the world Conversing with the ideas of Paul Virilio and Guy Debord among others Anderson Rabern claims that these groups posit new models of aesthetic politics through careful speed based investigations of construction and destruction that unearth the powerful potential of contemporary collaborative methods to be at once aesthetically minded ethically driven and politically engaged

Efficiencies of Slowness Rachel

Anderson-Rabel, 2011 This project focuses on the process and performance of three contemporary collective creation groups Goat Island Elevator Repair Service and Nature Theater of Oklahoma I draw processual and aesthetic connections between collective creation methodologies and the consequences of those methodologies in performance claiming that processes leave footprints that are ultimately visible to audiences though their visibility requires new ways of seeing Taking into account an American genealogy of collective creation I outline the footprints of method through the images of everyday employment instances of untrained bodies enacting danced gesture and the speeds and velocities that characterize the work of these three contemporary groups Through these aesthetics we can locate evidence of methodological principles that constitute a politics In the work of Goat Island Elevator Repair Service and Nature Theater of Oklahoma this politics does not play out through the ideological content of performance but is embedded within collaborative acts of making
