Steele, 1993-09-01 Through a blend of social and media history the author explores America's transition from a production oriented society to a culture of consumption Because of Dana's strong aversion to the consumerism that accompanied industrial capitalism the Sun became both the conscience and the advocate for New York's working class In the words of Joseph Pulitzer Dana transformed the Sun into the most piquant entertaining and without exception the best newspaper in the world Vicksburg's Long Shadow Christopher Waldrep, 2005 During the hottest days of the summer of 1863 while the nation's attention was focused on a small town in Pennsylvania known as Gettysburg another momentous battle was being fought along the banks of the Mississippi In the longest single campaign of the war the siege of Vicksburg left 19 000 dead and wounded on both sides gave the Union Army control of the Mississippi and left the Confederacy cut in half In this highly anticipated new work Christopher Waldrep takes a fresh look at how the Vicksburg campaign was fought and remembered He begins with a gripping account of the battle deftly recounting the experiences of African American troops fighting for the Union Waldrep shows how as the scars of battle faded the memory of the war was shaped both by the Northerners who controlled the battlefield and by the legacies of race and slavery that played out over the decades that followed
