Thai Art David Teh, 2017-03-31 The interplay of the local and the global in contemporary Thai art as artists strive for international recognition and a new meaning of the national Since the 1990s Thai contemporary art has achieved international recognition circulating globally by way of biennials museums and commercial galleries Many Thai artists have shed identification with their nation but Thainess remains an interpretive crutch for understanding their work In this book the curator and critic David Teh examines the tension between the global and the local in Thai contemporary art Writing the first serious study of Thai art since 1992 and noting that art history and criticism have lagged behind the market in recognizing it he describes the competing claims to contemporaneity as staked in Thailand and on behalf of Thai art elsewhere He shows how the values of the global art world are exchanged with local ones how they do and don't correspond and how these discrepancies have been exploited How can we make sense of globally circulating art without forgoing the interpretive resources of the local national or regional context Teh examines the work of artists who straddle the local and the global becoming willing agents of assimilation yet resisting homogenization He describes the transition from an artistic subjectivity couched in terms of national community to a more qualified postnational one against the backdrop of the singular but waning sovereignty of the Thai monarchy and sustained political and economic turmoil Among the national currencies of Thai art that Teh identifies are an agricultural symbology a Siamese poetics of distance and itinerancy and Hindu Buddhist conceptions of charismatic power Each of these currencies has been converted to a legal tender in global art signifying sustainability utopia the conceptual and the relational but what is lost and what may be gained in such exchanges

Chiu, 2017-03-31 For centuries wherever Thai Buddhists have made their homes statues of the Buddha have provided striking testament to the role of Buddhism in the lives of the people The Buddha in Lanna offers the first in depth historical study of the Thai tradition of donation of Buddha statues Drawing on palm leaf manuscripts and inscriptions many never previously translated into English the book reveals the key roles that Thai Buddha images have played in the social and economic worlds of their makers and devotees from the fifteenth to twentieth centuries Author Angela Chiu introduces stories from chronicles histories and legends written by monks in Lanna a region centered in today's northern Thailand By examining the stories themes structures and motifs she illuminates the complex conceptual and material aspects of Buddha images that influenced their functions in Lanna society Buddha images were depicted as social agents and mediators the focal points of pan regional political religious lineages and rivalries indeed as the very generators of history itself In the chronicles Buddha images also unified the Buddha with the northern Thai landscape thereby integrating Buddhist and local conceptions of place By comparing Thai Buddha statues with other representations of the Buddha the author underscores the contribution of the Thai evidence to a broader understanding of how different types of Buddha representations were understood to mediate the presence of the Buddha The Buddha in Lanna focuses on the Thai Buddha image as a part of the wider society and history of its creators and worshippers beyond monastery walls shedding much needed light on the Buddha image in history With its impressive range of primary sources this book will appeal to students and scholars of Buddhism and Buddhist art history Thai studies and Southeast Asian religious studies Vientiane Marc Askew, Colin Long, William Logan, 2006-12-07 Providing insights into this neglected Southeast Asian city this interesting book interprets Vientiane's landscape physical as well as imagined as a reflection of key aspects of Lao geo political history the nature of Lao urbanism and its critical relation to constructions of Lao identity in the contemporary period It is argued that the patterns of change seen through Vientiane's past embody the key political and economic processes and transformations impacting on the people of Laos The Lao urban past has rarely been an object of attention by scholars Laos in fact is continually portrayed as a rural backwater marginal to the dynamic trends affecting most of the Southeast Asian mainland In contrast to these persistent and static portrayals of Laos as a tiny landlocked backwater with no significant urban present or past the authors aim to document explain and evaluate the significance of the Lao urban landscape Focusing on the theme of Vientiane's marginality in its various forms the book interprets this apparent marginality as an historically produced phenomenon resulting from geo politics dating from the pre colonial period and extending into the post colonial period Drawing on a wide range of research materials Vientiane is the first work of its kind on this ignored city
