Screen Savors Hernán Vera, Andrew M. Gordon, 2003-01-21 Screen Savors studies how the self of whites is imagined in Hollywood movies by white directors featuring white protagonists interacting with people of another color This collaboration by a sociologist and a film critic using the new perspective of critical white studies offers a bold and sweeping critique of almost a century's worth of American film from Birth of Nation 1915 through Black Hawk Down 2001 Screen Savors studies the way in which the social relations that we call race are fictionalized and pictured in the movies It argues that films are part of broader projects that lead us to ignore or deny the nature of the racial divide in which Americans live Even as the images of racial and ethnic minorities change across the twentieth century Hollywood keeps portraying the ideal white American self as good looking powerful brave cordial kind firm and generous a natural born leader worthy of the loyalty of those of another color The book invites readers to conduct their own analyses of films by showing how this can be done in over 50 Hollywood movies Among these are some films about the Civil War Birth of a Nation Gone with the Wind and Glory some about white messiahs who rescue people of another color Stargate To Kill a Mockingbird Mississippi Burning Three Kings and The Matrix the three versions of Mutiny on the Bounty 1935 1962 and 1984 and interracial romance Guess Who's Coming to Dinner Forty years of Hollywood fantasies of interracial harmony from The Defiant Ones and In the Heat of the Night through the Lethal Weapon series and Men in Black are examined This work in the sociology of knowledge and cultural studies relates the movies of Hollywood to the large political agendas on race relation in the United States Screen Savors
