The Life of Catalina de Erauso, the Lieutenant Nun Sonia Pérez-Villanueva, 2014-01-14 The Life of Catalina de Erauso the Lieutenant Nun An Early Modern Autobiography examines Vida y sucesos de la Monja Alfré as a form of autobiography through a comparative study with early modern secular life narratives the picaresque novels La vida de Lazarillo de Tormes y de sus fortunas y adversidades anonymous La pícara Justina by Francisco López de Ubeda the chronicle Relación que dio Alvar Núñez Cabeza de Vaca de lo acaescido en las Indias en la armada donde yva por governador Pedro de Narváez desde el año de veynete y siete hasta el año de treinta y seis que bolvió a Sevilla con tres de su compañía by Cabeza de Vaca and the soldier's narrative Vida nacimiento padres y crianza del Capitán Alonso de Contreras natural de Madrid Cavallero del orden de San Juan Comendador de una de sus encomiendas en Castilla escrita por el mismo by Alonso de Contreras Two questions are addressed How is Vida y sucesos similar to or different from picaresque novels chronicles of the New World and soldiers narratives How are the similarities and differences between Vida y sucesos and these forms of writing related to theoretical parameters for an autobiography In order to conduct this comparative analysis four theoretical parameters are established for assessing autobiographical texts These parameters coincidence of narrator and protagonist historical referentiality whether the subjective narration has a plausible basis in the experience and belief structure of the narrator and the intention of the narrator to tell an autobiographical truth are based upon the critical approach of hybridity and intersubjectivity but also draw upon related theoretical work This book argues that Vida y sucesos should be considered as a form of autobiography with the understanding that autobiography is an intersubjective and hybrid form or a forma fronteriza

The Lieutenant Nun Sherry Velasco, 2009-12-03 Catalina de Erauso 1592-1650 was a Basque noblewoman who just before taking final vows to become a nun escaped from the convent at San Sebastián dressed as a man and in her own words went hither and thither embarked went into port took to roving slew wounded embezzled and roamed about Her long service fighting for the Spanish empire in Peru and Chile won her a soldier's pension and a papal dispensation to continue dressing in men's clothing This theoretically informed study analyzes the many ways in which the Lieutenant Nun has been constructed interpreted marketed and consumed by both the dominant and divergent cultures in Europe Latin America and the United States from the seventeenth century to the present Sherry Velasco argues that the ways in which literary theatrical iconographic and cinematic productions have transformed Erauso's life experience into a public spectacle show how transgender narratives expose and manipulate spectators fears and desires Her book thus reveals what happens when the private experience of a transgenderist is shifted to the public sphere and thereby marketed as a hybrid spectacle for the curious gaze of the general audience

Harden,2020-11-03 Arms and Letters analyses the unprecedented number of autobiographical accounts written by Spanish soldiers during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries These first person retrospective works recount a range of experiences throughout the sprawling domain of the Hispanic monarchy Reading a selection of autobiographies in contemporary historical context including the coalescing of the first modern armies which were partially populated by forced recruits and the urban poor Faith S Harden explains how soldiers adapted the concept of honour and contributed to the burgeoning autobiographical form Harden argues that Spanish military life writing took two broad forms the first as a petition wherein the soldier s service was presented as a debt of honour and second as a series of misadventures staging honour as a spectacle that captivated an audience Honour was inevitably gendered and performative and as such it functioned as one of the overarching metrics of value that early modern men and women applied to themselves and others In charting how non elite subjects rendered their lives legitimate through autobiography Arms and Letters contributes both to a critical genealogy of honour and to the history of life writing and textiles in the early modern Atlantic world Textiles are the books that the colony was not able to burn Asociaci n Femenina para el Desarrollo de Sacatep quez AFEDES A history of the book in the Americas across deep time would reveal the origins of a literary tradition woven rather than written It is in what Danielle Skeeahan calls material texts that a people s history and culture is preserved in their embroidery their needlework and their woven cloth In defining textiles as a form of cultural writing The Fabric of Empire challenges long held ideas about authorship textuality and the making of books It is impossible to separate text from textiles in the early modern Atlantic novels newspapers broadsides and pamphlets were printed on paper made from household rags Yet the untethering of text from textile served a colonial agenda to define authorship as reflected in ink and paper and the pen as an instrument wielded by learned men and women Skeeahan explains that the colonial definition of the book and what constituted writing and authorship left colonial regimes blind to nonalphabetic forms of media that preserved cultural knowledge history and lived experience This book shifts how we look at cultural objects such as books and fabric and provides a material and literary history of resistance among the globally dispossessed Each chapter examines the manufacture and global circulation of a particular type of cloth alongside the complex print networks that ensured the circulation of these textiles promoted their production petitioned for or served to curtail the rights of textile workers facilitated the exchange of textiles for human lives and were in turn printed and written on surfaces manufactured from broken down linen and cotton fibers Bringing together methods and materials traditionally belonging to literary studies book history and material culture studies The Fabric of Empire provides a new model for thinking about the different media languages literacies and textualities in the early Atlantic world
