

4 Steps to Effective Listening for Couples

Listen Actively

- Paraphrase what you've heard, i.e., "Do you mean....?" or "What happened was....?"
- Clarify to be sure you understand what you've heard.
- Give Feedback to check your perceptions of what you've heard.

Listen With Empathy

- Imagine what it would be like to be in spouse or partner's position.
- Experience the same emotion he or she is feeling; reflect on times when you've had the same emotion.
- Realize that we all share many of the same struggles and are trying to survive both physically and emotionally.

Listen With Openness

- Avoid judgment and fault-finding. It's difficult to really listen when you do this.
- Hear the whole statement or communication before making premature evaluations.

Listen With Awareness

- Compare what's being said to your own knowledge of what your spouse or partner is telling you.
- Note how a communication fits with known facts.
- Observe congruence in tone of voice, facial expressions, and posture to see if it fits with the person's communication.

Bride, Nicholas Mazza, 2022-09-16 First published in 1997 Although the fields of thanatology and traumatology have received robust attention during their parallel development little effort has been made to address their overlapping territory This volume is the first attempt to do so Specifically the purpose of this book is fourfold First is to provide a theoretical bridge between the two fields by providing conceptual terminology such as defining normal versus dysfunctional bereavement and the meaning and range of death related PTSD The second confirms and illustrates the identical patterns of reactions between those who survive the death of a loved one and those who survive other traumatic events Next the book applies the most useful theoretical models to the bereavement experience and in turn acknowledges the utility of generalizing bereavement models to other traumatic experiences in doing so the two fields can enrich each other Similarly the volume s final purpose is to identify and apply the most useful and effective approaches in traumatology literature to the study diagnosis and treatment of traumatic stressors other than death
