How different are we from those in the past Or how different do we think we are from those in the past Medieval people were more dirty and unhygienic than us as novels TV and film would have us believe but how much truth is there in this notion This book seeks to challenge some of these preconceptions by examining medieval society through rules of conduct and specifically through the lens of a medieval Latin text entitled The Book of the Civilised Man or Urbanus magnus which is attributed to Daniel of Beccles Urbanus magnus is a twelfth century poem of almost 3 000 lines which comprehensively surveys the day to day life of medieval society including issues such as moral behaviour friendship marriage hospitality table manners and diet Currently it is a neglected source for the social and cultural history of daily life in medieval England but by incorporating modern ideas of disgust and taboo and merging anthropology sociology and archaeology with history this book aims to bring it to the fore and to show that medieval people did have standards of behaviour Although they may seem remote to modern civilised people there is both continuity and change in human behaviour throughout the centuries

The Subject of Crusade Marisa Galvez,2020-04-09 In the Middle Ages religious crusaders took up arms prayed bade farewell to their families and marched off to fight in holy wars These Christian soldiers also created accounts of their lives in lyric poetry putting words to the experience of personal sacrifice and the pious struggle associated with holy war The crusaders affirmed their commitment to fighting to claim a distant land while revealing their feelings as they left behind their loved ones homes and earthly duties Their poems and related visual works offer us insight into the crusaders lives and values at the boundaries of earthly and spiritual duties body and soul holy devotion and courtly love In The Subject of Crusade Marisa Galvez offers a nuanced view of holy war and crusade poetry reading these lyric works within a wider conversation with religion and culture Arguing for an interdisciplinary treatment of crusade lyric she shows how such poems are crucial for understanding the crusades as a complex cultural and historical phenomenon Placing them in conversation with chronicles knightly handbooks artworks and confessional and pastoral texts she identifies a particular crusade idiom that emerged out of the conflict between pious and earthly duties Galvez fashions an expanded understanding of the creative works made by crusaders to reveal their experiences desires ideologies and reasons for taking up the cross Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2000

the author explores the formation of interpretive communities during the years when reading silently and alone gradually became more common than reading aloud in a group In the Public Eye discusses printing publishing literacy schooling criticism and censorship to study the social cultural economic and political forces that shaped French interpretive practice Examining the art and act of reading by different audiences it discloses the mentalities of literate people for whom few other historical records exist The book will be essential reading for those interested in modern French history post structuralist literary theory and criticism reader response theory and criticism and social and intellectual history in general Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
