Socialist History, 1993 Contested Legacies Kevin Morgan, 2002 Socialist History, 2005 Women's History: Britain, 1850-1945 June Purvis, 2008 French Early Socialists 1790s-1870s Pamela Pilbeam, 2025-03-05 This new edition is an updated assessment of the ideas and strategies of early French socialists incorporating recent research which observes the practical and scientific nature of socialist proposals The second edition provides increased coverage of women's contributions including the important roles of activists like Flora Tristan and Jeanne Deroin socialist women's newspapers schools run by women and the demand for suffrage in 1848 There is also further emphasis on socialist experiments in France's new colony Algeria and on transnational connections particularly with Owen in Britain and Fourierist communities in North America Association still figures prominently as the solution to the social and economic problems created by modernisation and capitalist exploitation It took a variety of forms from Fourier's proposal that private finance create profit sharing communities to Leroux's practical cooperative venture at Boussac through Blanc and Considérant's demands for state initiative to set up worker alternatives to capitalism The democratic republic of 1848 gave socialists the opportunity to engage in politics and despite the setbacks of the Second Empire socialists were set on a parliamentary route in which they still have a presence French Early Socialists 1790s-1870s is an engaging resource for students and scholars in histories of France politics and gender What Happened to History? Willie Thompson, 2000-11-20 A study of US imperialism that argues America's leaders have chosen to go to war for influence and power ever since the declaration of independence History's Memory Ellen Fitzpatrick, 2004-10-25 This reinterpretation of a century of American historical writing challenges the notion that the politics of the recent past alone explains the politics of history Fitzpatrick offers a wise historical perspective on today's heated debates and reclaims the long line of historians who tilled the rich and diverse soil of our past A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers, Q. Edward Wang, Supriya Mukherjee, 2013-09-13 So far histories of historiography have concentrated almost exclusively on the West This is the first book to offer a history of modern historiography from a global perspective Tracing the transformation of historical writings over the past two and half centuries the book portrays the transformation of historical writings under the effect of professionalization which served as a model not only for Western but also for much of non-Western historical studies At the same time it critically examines the reactions in post-modern and post-colonial thought to established conceptions of scientific historiography A main theme of the book is how historians in the non-Western world not only adopted or adapted Western ideas but also explored different approaches rooted in their own cultures History workshop, Women At Imperial College; Past, Present And Future Anne Barrett, 2017-02-24 This book is a celebration of women in science technology medicine and business at Imperial College London It shows the inspirational role women played in the creation of the legacy of the College since its inception and represents a guide to their achievements Biographies and archive material provide an insight into their

French Socialists Before Marx Pamela M. Pilbeam, 2000 How to put socialism into practice was as fundamental a concern for nineteenth century socialists as it has been for their successors In French Socialists before Marx Pamela Pilbeam explores the development of and changes in socialist ideas revealing how the Fourierists of the 1830s and 1840s changed Fourier s ideas on the family and sexuality preferring public works programs to model communities She focuses on the practical contributions of early socialists including the efforts of working women to run schools worker associations and newspapers

The Journal of Adult Education, 1926

The Bengal Diaspora Claire Alexander, Joya Chatterji, Annu Jalais, 2015-11-06 India's partition in 1947 and the creation of Bangladesh in 1971 saw the displacement and resettling of millions of Muslims and Hindus resulting in profound transformations across the region A third of the region's population sought shelter across new borders almost all of them resettling in the Bengal delta itself A similar number were internally displaced while others moved to the Middle East North America and Europe Using a creative interdisciplinary approach combining historical sociological and anthropological approaches to migration and diaspora this book explores the experiences of Bengali Muslim migrants through this period of upheaval and transformation It draws on over 200 interviews conducted in Britain India and Bangladesh tracing migration and settlement within and from the Bengal delta region in the period after 1947 Focussing on migration and diaspora from below it teases out fascinating hidden migrant stories including those of women refugees and displaced people It reveals surprising similarities and important differences in the experience of Muslim migrants in widely different contexts and places whether in the towns and hamlets of Bengal delta or in the cities of Britain Counterposing accounts of the structures that frame migration with the textures of how migrants shape their own movement it examines what it means to make new homes in a context of diaspora The book is also unique in its focus on the experiences of those who stayed behind and in its analysis of ruptures in the migration process

Importantly the book seeks to challenge crude attitudes to Muslim migrants which assume their cultural and religious homogeneity and to humanize contemporary discourses around global migration This ground breaking new research offers an essential contribution to the field of South Asian Studies Diaspora Studies and Society and Culture Studies

Postsocialist Memory in Contemporary German Culture Michel Mallet, Maria Mayr, Kristin Rebien, 2024-08-05 Scholarship on Eastern Europe after 1989 often focuses narrowly on the socialist past as authoritarian dictatorial or totalitarian This collection by contrast illuminates an additional dimension of post socialist memory it traces the survival of hopes and dreams born under socialism and the legacy of the unrealized alternative futures embedded within the socialist past Looking at contemporary German language literature film theater and art the volume analyzes reflections on everyday socialist realities as well as narratives of opposition and dissent The texts discussed here not only revisit the past but also challenge the present and help us imagine alternative futures Rather than framing the unrealized futures envisioned in the pre 1989 era as failures this collection probes post socialist memory for its future oriented potential to rethink issues of community equity and equality and late stage capitalism Foregrounding the complexities of Eastern European legacies also helps us reimagine the relationship between East and West both in Germany and in Europe as a whole

British Nuclear Mobilisation Since 1945 Jonathan Hogg, Kate Brown, 2021-05-18 This book explores aspects of the social and cultural history of nuclear Britain in the Cold War era 1945 1991 and contributes to a more multivalent exploration of the consequences of nuclear choices which are too often left unacknowledged by historians of post war Britain In the years after 1945 the British government mobilised money scientific knowledge people and military industrial capacity to create both an independent nuclear deterrent and the generation of electricity through nuclear reactors This expensive and vast technopolitical project mostly top secret and run by small sub committees within government was central to broader Cold War strategy and policy Recent attempts to map the resulting social and cultural history of these military industrial policy decisions suggest that nuclear mobilisation had far reaching consequences for British life The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary British History

Mapping Society Laura Vaughan, 2018-09-24 From a rare map of yellow fever in eighteenth century New York to Charles Booth s famous maps of poverty in nineteenth century London an Italian racial zoning map of early twentieth century Asmara to a map of wealth disparities in the banlieues of twenty first century Paris Mapping Society traces the evolution of social cartography over the past two centuries In this richly illustrated book Laura Vaughan examines maps of ethnic or religious difference poverty and health inequalities demonstrating how they not only serve as historical records of social enquiry but also constitute inscriptions of social patterns that have been etched deeply on the surface of cities The book covers themes such as the use of visual rhetoric to change public opinion the evolution of sociology as an academic practice changing attitudes to physical disorder and the complexity of segregation as an urban phenomenon While the focus is on historical maps the narrative carries the discussion of the spatial dimensions of social cartography forward to the present day showing how disciplines such as public health crime science and urban planning chart spatial data in their current practice Containing examples of space syntax analysis alongside full colour maps and photographs this volume will appeal to all those interested in the long term forces that shape how people live in cities
