Socialists And Clab:

The Politics of Women's Work Judith G. Coffin, 2014-07-14 Few issues attracted more attention in the nineteenth century than the problem of women's work and few industries posed that problem more urgently than the booming garment industry in Paris. The seamstress represented the quintessential working girl and the sewing machine the icon of modern femininity. The intense speculation and worry that swirled around both helped define many issues of gender and labor that concern us today. Here Judith Coffin presents a fascinating history of the Parisian garment industry from the unraveling of the guilds in the late 1700s to the first minimum wage bill in 1915. She explores how issues related to working women took shape and how gender became fundamental to the modern social division of labor and our understanding of it. Combining the social history of women's labor and the intellectual history of nineteenth century social science and political economy, Coffin sets many questions in their fullest cultural context. What constituted women's work? Did women belong in the industrial labor force? Why was women's work equated with low pay? Should not a woman enjoy status as an enlightened homemaker/consumer? The author examines patterns of consumption as well as production, setting out for example the links among the newly invented sewing machine, changes in the labor force, and the development of advertising with its shifting and often unsettling visual representations of women labor and machinery. Throughout, Coffin challenges the conventional categories of work/home and women's identity. CHENG,2012-05-01 This volume presents a timely assessment of the Hu Wen Administration at the juncture of preparing a change of China's leadership in 2012-13. The assessment is important because the administration's apparent success tends to create a path dependent orientation on the part of its successor. Bringing together a collection of nineteen major essays, this book offers a fresh perspective of evaluating the performance and achievements of China in the Hu Wen era in terms of economic development, the establishment of a rudimentary social security system and her rising international status. The new opportunities and challenges facing China and how will the likely successors Xi Jinping and Li Keqiang handle those opportunities and challenges as well as new policy programmes will also be discussed in greater detail. Each essay is written by experts and scholars from different academic disciplines and backgrounds to provide readers with a unique overview of their respective areas of expertise.

Radioactive Waste Frans Berkhout,2003-10-04 This analysis of nuclear strategy, the politics of nuclear power and the shifting emphasis of government regulation redefines the issue of radwaste management and sets it at the centre of the current debate about the environment.

North Korea's Nuclear Cinema Elizabeth Shim,2024-10-17 North Korea's Nuclear Cinema examines why and how North Korea has transitioned to an image based nuclear power in the changing context of a post Cold War world. What exactly is the North Korean nuclear threat? Why is North Korea engaging in hostilities when its erstwhile adversaries have offered a diplomatic exit ramp? Chapter by chapter it explains how North Korea's footage based nuclear politics is presented as military practice but ultimately traces its lineage to cinematic propaganda, a tradition that blurs the line between image and reality. By leveraging cinematic resources in place of physical military mobilization, North Korea continues to move international political actors with the mere suggestion of nuclear power. At a moment when North Korea is enhancing media representation, this book dives into a timely exploration of how the regime is projecting state power as South Korean televisual media challenges the North Korean communist spectacle that has held a captive audience for decades.
