Psychotherapy Under the Influence of Georges Bataille William Buse, 2021-04-04 This fascinating book applies social theorist Georges Bataille's revolutionary thinking to psychotherapy offering clinicians a new and valuable context for practicing therapy In adding Bataille's ideas to several different psychotherapeutic modalities this book makes the notoriously obscure thinker more accessible while testing the validity of his far reaching work in the treatment room Through an in depth examination of several clinical case studies the book demonstrates how to balance an understanding of the social and historical contexts of participants with a therapeutic approach that offers empathy for individual distress It also explains how Bataille's innovative approach can be applied to work with couples groups institutions and even one of Freud's classic case studies Both the content and form of each chapter demonstrate the therapeutic value of a reflexive critical approach to one's practice and exemplify how to write about it Offering an unprecedented opportunity to imagine how Bataille's own interest in psychoanalysis and clinical psychology might have developed this book will be of interest to both practitioners in the field and scholars of continental philosophy and social theory

Margaret Mead Nancy C. Lutkehaus, 2018-06-26 Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful committed citizens can change the world Margaret Mead This quotation found on posters and bumper stickers and adopted as the motto for hundreds of organizations worldwide speaks to the global influence and legacy of the American anthropologist Margaret Mead 1901-78 In this insightful and revealing book Nancy Lutkehaus explains how and why Mead became the best known anthropologist and female public intellectual in twentieth century America Using photographs films television appearances and materials from newspapers magazines and scholarly journals Lutkehaus explores the ways in which Mead became an American cultural heroine Identifying four key images associated with her the New Woman the Anthropologist Adventurer the Scientist and the Public Intellectual Lutkehaus examines the various meanings that different segments of American society assigned to Mead throughout her lengthy career as a public figure The author shows that Mead came to represent a new set of values and ideas about women non Western peoples culture and America s role in the twentieth century that have significantly transformed society and become generally accepted today Lutkehaus also considers why there has been no other anthropologist since Mead to become as famous Margaret Mead is an engaging look at how one woman s life and accomplishments resonated with the issues that shaped American society and changed her into a celebrity and cultural icon Universalism Without Uniformity Julia L.

Cassaniti,Usha Menon,2017-10-26 In their volume Universalism without Uniformity anthropologists Julia Cassaniti and Usha Menon bring together a set of distinguished papers to address the interconnections between culture and mind As the title suggests they seek to understand how one can conceive of a shared humanity while also doing justice to cross cultural psychological diversity The chapters investigate topics such as emotion identity mental health and conflict among others Through the construction of a new approach that focuses squarely on the interrelationship of culture and mind this volume questions old entrenched disciplinary assumptions Geared toward students of anthropology psychology and ethnic studies Universalism without Uniformity seeks to uncover the intricate connections and mechanisms of psyche and culture Do

Parents Matter? Robert A. LeVine,Sarah LeVine,2016-09-06 When it comes to parenting more isn t always better but it is always more tiring In Japan a boy sleeps in his parents bed until age ten but still shows independence in all other areas of his life In rural India toilet training begins one month after infants are born and is accomplished with little fanfare In Paris parents limit the amount of agency they give their toddlers In America parents grant them ever more choices independence and attention Given our approach to parenting is it any surprise that American parents are too frequently exhausted Over the course of nearly fifty years Robert and Sarah LeVine have conducted a groundbreaking worldwide study of how families work They have consistently found that children can be happy and healthy in a wide variety of conditions not just the effort intensive cautious environment so many American parents drive themselves crazy trying to create While there is always another news article or scientific fad proclaiming the importance of some factor or other it s easy to miss the bigger picture that children are smarter more resilient and more independent than we give them credit for Do Parents Matter is an eye opening look at the world of human nurture one with profound lessons for the way we think about our families Women in Kararau Brigitta Hauser-Schäublin,2019 The book offers a glimpse back in time to a Middle Sepik society the Iatmul first investigated by the anthropologist Gregory Bateson in the late 1920s while the feminist anthropologist Margaret Mead worked on sex roles among the neighbouring Tchambuli Chambri people The author lived in the Iatmul village of Kararau in 1972 3 where she studied women s lives works and knowledge in detail She revisited the Sepik in 2015 and 2017 The book the translation of a 1977 publication in German is complemented by two chapters dealing with the life of the Iatmul in the 2010s It presents rich quantitative and qualitative data on subsistence economy marriage and women s knowledge concerning myths and rituals Besides life histories and in depth interviews convey deep insights into women s experiences and feelings especially regarding their varied relationships with men in the early 1970s Since then Iatmul culture has changed in many respects especially as far as the economy religion knowledge and the relationship between men and women are concerned In her afterword the anthropologist Christiane Falck highlights some of the major topics raised in the book from a 2018 perspective based on her own fieldwork which she commenced in 2012 Thus the book provides the reader with detailed information about gendered lives in this riverine village of the 1970s and an understanding of the cultural processes and dynamics that have taken place since Strangers in the Ethnic Homeland Takeyuki Tsuda, 2003-04-30. Since the late 1980s Brazilians of Japanese descent have been returning migrating to Japan as unskilled foreign workers. With an immigrant population currently estimated at roughly 280 000 Japanese Brazilians are now the second largest group of foreigners in Japan. Although they are of Japanese descent most were born in Brazil and are culturally Brazilian. As a result they have become Japan's newest ethnic minority. Drawing upon close to two years of multisite fieldwork in Brazil and Japan Takeyuki Tsuda has written a comprehensive ethnography that examines the ethnic experiences and reactions of both Japanese Brazilian immigrants and their native Japanese hosts. In response to their socioeconomic marginalization in their ethnic homeland Japanese Brazilians have strengthened their Brazilian nationalist sentiments despite becoming members of an increasingly well integrated transnational migrant community. Although such migrant nationalism enables them to resist assimilationist Japanese cultural pressures its challenge to Japanese ethnic attitudes and ethnonational identity remains inherently contradictory. Strangers in the Ethnic Homeland illuminates how cultural encounters caused by transnational migration can reinforce local ethnic identities and nationalist discourses.

Contentment and Suffering Douglas Wood Hollan, Jane C. Wellenkamp, 1994. Contentment and Suffering a psychocultural ethnography of the Toraja wet rice farmers of Indonesia provides a rich portrait of Torajan life and contributes to debates on the relationship between culture and individual psychology. Hollan and Wellenkamp describe the central aspects of Torajan personal experience emotion identity and sense of self and a variety of fascinating cultural practices including possession trance kickfights elaborate mortuary customs dream interpretation and buffalo sacrifice. Presenting exceptionally detailed ethnographic data through a person centered perspective and extensive use of open ended interviews Contentment and Suffering engagingly expresses how the Toraja understand their lives.

Ibss: Anthropology: 1978 International Committee for Social Science Information and Documentation, 1990-12-31. First published in 1981. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company. Oral Discourse and Education Bronwyn Davies, P. Corson, 2013-11-01 Oral Discourse and Education examines spoken language as a field of study looking at the various ways in which we can both theorise the place of talk in education and examine the way talk is actually done in educational settings. Given the centrality of literacy based practices in schools, a book focusing on talk brings quite different and important perspectives to the study of education. Talk is something that has all too often been devalued and taken for granted. What becomes evident throughout the papers included in this volume is that talk is of central importance in establishing identities and the cultures in which those identities are located. However, because we are unused to reflexively examining the way we talk, there is a serious disjuncture between what we believe talk should achieve and what can be seen to be achieved in actual talk in educational settings. Anyone interested in teaching should read this book. Becoming more aware of the centrality of talk and what it achieves is important both for enabling us to find ways to bring our ideals more in line with our practices and for being able to recognise and reflect on the ways our talk can be achieving things quite other than what we intend. This book is relevant to teachers at primary, secondary and tertiary levels and for researchers interested in spoken language in educational contexts.

Embodying Morality Helle Rydstrom, 2003-07-31 One of the first anthropological studies based on extensive fieldwork in Vietnam in decades, Embodying Morality examines child rearing in a rural Red River delta commune. It is a sophisticated and intriguing exploration of the ways in which a family system based on principles of male descent influences the moral upbringing and learning of girls and boys. In Vietnamese culture, boys alone perpetuate the patrilineal family line; they incorporate the past, present and future morality, honor and reputation of their father's lineage. Within this patrilineal universe, girls are viewed as blank sheets of paper and must compensate for this deficiency by embodying tin (cam) sensitivity. Such attitudes play a significant role in the upbringing of girls and boys and in how they learn to use and understand their bodies. Helle Rydstrom offers fresh data from audiotapes, videotapes, textbooks, observations in the home and at school for identifying the transformation of local and educational constructions of females, males and morality into body styles of girls, boys, women and men. She highlights the extent to which body performances in daily life produce, reproduce and challenge widespread northern Vietnamese ideals of femininity and masculinity. The author's highly original application of post-structuralist theory to Vietnam blends epistemology, practice, body and socialization theories with feminist analysis and relates these to children's learning. By proposing the body as an analytic category that can move feminist theory beyond the impasse of the well-established opposition between sex and gender, Embodying Morality demonstrates vividly how specific cultural elaborations of corporeality are learned, lived and experienced in contemporary rural Vietnam.

Socialization As Cultural Communication Development Of A Theme In The Work Of Margaret Mead: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Socialization As Cultural Communication Development Of A Theme In The Work Of Margaret Mead : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Socialization As Cultural Communication Development Of A Theme In The Work Of Margaret Mead : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
