FUNCTIONALISM ON EDUCATION

DURKHEIM

Education performs two basic functions:

- 1. It provides social cohesion, creating a collective conscience in students by teaching the national flag, history, and so on.
- 2. It provides social integration, teaching students to follow the same conventions, like manners, customs, and the like.

What are some of the common criticisms?

- 1. "Education has been too much standardized."
- 2. "Education is too much of a socialization."
- 3. "Education is too much of a socialization."

MARXISM ON EDUCATION

BOWLES & GINTIS

The Capitalist Education

Bowles & Gintis believe that education is not based on merit and hard work as individuals say. Instead they believe it is about class domination.

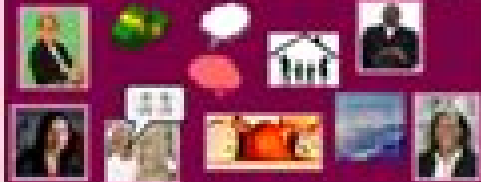

What would we say about school class and capitalism? What we feel about it is important, that's right?

Education is a social institution that reproduces the social relations of production. It is a system of social control that shapes the consciousness of the young to fit the needs of the capitalist system.

INTERNAL FACTORS

CLASS IDENTITIES

Many teachers have a certain concept of what thinking, doing and writing are and see other writing practices as not being as good as their own. This can be a barrier to learning.

Teachers' internal beliefs about writing may prevent them from trying new things.

As writing class evolves over time, teachers should notice the ways students' beliefs about writing change and help them to develop more positive beliefs about writing.
