The Day We Still Stand Here:

The Day We Still Stand Here Gary Margolis, 2008-04-01 Gary Margolis's first book of poems is accomplished in its craftsmanship. For many years he has been publishing in magazines and in this initial gathering of his work he presents a sustained mature poetic voice. This is a collection of his best poems and a carefully considered whole, a book that is consistently lyrical and moving.

The Complete Concordance to Shakespeare: Being a Verbal Index to All the Passages in the Dramatic Works of the Poet Mary Cowden-Clarke, 1845

All Aberration Terese Svoboda, 2009-09-01 These are poems of family, of romantic hope and disappointment of parenthood and of grief that move from a childhood in Nebraska in which a father strides into a ripe wheat field to the parks and parking lots of New York City, the interchangeable landscapes of suburban America and the more sensual environment of secluded water to little-traveled parts of Africa and the Pacific where our customs and passions are refracted into shapes that are sometimes beautiful, sometimes grotesque. Terese Svoboda writes of a world in which the reassuring simplicity remembered from childhood is difficult to recover. Outside of this vision of the past, all present life seems an aberration, an existence where violence can supplant love, families break apart, a child dies. All Aberration received a starred review in Publishers Weekly, a lead in Contemporary Poetry 1986 and a Notable Book nomination by the American Library Association. It was written during stays at Yaddo, MacDowell and Ossabaw and received the benefit of a Creative Artists Public Service grant in 1982. Its poems first appeared in such magazines as Harper's, The Nation, Paris Review and Ploughshares.

The Gaze of Winter Donald Revell, 1988 In Donald Revell's poems, the present is often little more than an instant caught between the sadness of memory and the need to face the future's blank expanse. Even the best dreams recall happiness that cannot be retrieved while the worst memories bend past love into a crazy line through darkness. Anything can turn furious. The crazy line through wreckage that wears my face and all the faces seems not to end. And on the way, even the most damaged things have one surface glazed, a sudden distorting mirror that I can't help finding. There I look as I did, stalled in hours or places, it is shame to remember. The Eumenides are slow vengeance meted out by anywhere love fails in the collapse and angry dealing of self-love. The light presses. The air presses hard and no story of mine is good enough to hold out. When there is escape, calm in these poems, it is often in thoughts of distant lands and pasts in the works of other writers and artists, the bands of light and changing shadows of Cézanne's canvases, the suburban desire and deep green lawns of Cheever's fiction. It is art stories, the urge to tell that brings hope in these lines.

Congressional Record United States Congress, 2001 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress. It is published daily when Congress is in session. The Congressional Record began publication in 1873. Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789-1824, the Register of Debates in Congress 1824-1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833-1873.
