Gay and Lesbian Theologies Elizabeth Stuart, 2017-09-08 Gay and lesbian theology has been one of the most distinctive voices to have emerged in Christian theology in the last 30 years It has placed lesbian and gay experience at the heart of the theological process Elizabeth Stuart one of the most prominent theologians in this field presents the first critical survey of gay and lesbian theology arguing that its emergence was nothing short of miraculous Gay and lesbian theologians managed to take a dominant Christian discourse which rendered them sinful sick and harmful to the common good and transform it into a theology which argued that a person's sexuality provided the point of contact between God and themselves Stuart argues that miraculous though this was gay and lesbian theology has revealed itself to be bankrupt incapable of providing universally convincing reasons for the inclusion of lesbian and gay people and their relationships in the Church and unable to deal with the defining experience of lesbian and gay communities in the late twentieth century AIDS Stuart concludes that lesbian and gay people and their opponents in the Church have too easily bought into modern constructions of sexual identity and cut themselves off from a Christian tradition which is far more queer in that it refuses to accept the stability of gender and sexual desire Stuart argues that the only way out of the current deadlock on the issue of homosexuality in the Churches is for both sides to embrace this ancient queer tradition a Christian tradition which teaches that in the end gender and sexual identities have no ultimate importance

What Do Gay Men Want? David Halperin, 2010-04-20 Compelling timely and provocative The writing is sleek and exhilarating It doesn't waste time telling us what it will do or what it has just done it just does it Don Kulick Professor of Anthropology New York University How we can talk about sex and risk in the age of barebacking or condomless sex without invoking the usual bogus and punitive clichés about gay men's alleged low self esteem lack of self control and other psychological deficits Are there queer alternatives to psychology for thinking about the inner life of homosexuality What Do Gay Men Want explores some of the possibilities Unlike most writers on the topic of gay men and risky sex David Halperin liberates gay male subjectivity from psychology demonstrating the insidious ways in which psychology's defining opposition between the normal and the pathological subjects homosexuality to medical reasoning and revives a whole set of unexamined moral assumptions about good sex and bad sex In particular Halperin champions neglected traditions of queer thought including both literary and popular discourses by drawing on the work of well known figures like Jean Genet and neglected ones like Marcel Jouhandeau He shows how the long history of of gay men's uses of abjection can offer an alternative nonmoralistic model for thinking about gay male subjectivity something which is urgently needed in the age of barebacking Anyone searching for nondisciplinary ways to slow the spread of HIV AIDS among gay men or interested in new modes of thinking about gay male subjectivity should read this book David M Halperin is W H Auden Collegiate Professor of the History and Theory of Sexuality Professor of English Professor of Women s Studies Professor of Comparative Literature and Adjunct Professor of Classical Studies at the University of Michigan Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II Sonya L Jones, 2014-05-22 Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II chronicles the multifaceted explosion of gay and lesbian writing that has taken place in the second half of the twentieth century Encompassing a wide range of subject matter and a balance of gay and lesbian concerns it includes work by established scholars as well as young theoreticians and archivists who have initiated new areas of investigation The contributors examinations of this rich literary period make it easy to view the half century from 1948 to 1998 as the Queer Renaissance Included in Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II are critical and social analyses of literary movements novels short fiction periodicals and poetry as well as a look at the challenges of establishing a repository for lesbian cultural history Specific chapters in this groundbreaking work trace the development of gay poetry in America after World War II examine how AIDS is represented in the first four Latino novels to deal with the subject matter and chronicle the birth of lesbian feminist publishing in the 1970s showing how it created a flourishing gay literature in the 1980s and 1990s Other chapters outline the history of The Ladder from its initial publication in 1956 as the official vehicle of the Daughters of Bilitis to its final issue as a privately published literary magazine in 1972 examine Baldwin s 1962 novel Another Country and discuss the complicated critical history of this work and its relation to Baldwin s literary reputation racial sexual and political factors are taken into account chart how Other Voices Other Rooms by Truman Capote and The House of Breath by William Goyen reveal contradictory genderings of male homosexuality suggesting an absence of a unified model of mid twentieth century male homosexuality argue that the 1976 novel Lover by Bertha Harris can be considered an exemplary novel within discussions of both postmodern fiction and lesbian theory The author calls for Harris to be added to the group of writers such as Wittig Anzald a Lorde and Winterson who are discussed within the context of a postmodern lesbian narrative examine the short fiction of Canadian lesbian novelist Jane Rule in an effort to shed light on lesbian creative practice in the homophobic climate of postwar North America argue for an understanding of Dale Peck s novel Martin and John as an attempt to link two apparently different processes of import to contemporary male subjects through examination of the novel alongside selected passages from Nietzsche and Freud focus on the pragmatic issues of developing and maintaining accessible research venues from which to cultivate the study of racial and cultural diversity in lesbian lives Document the history of the Lesbian Herstory Archives one of the first lesbian specific collections in the world from its birth in the early 1970s to the present
