The Determined Reader Gender And Culture In The Novel From Napoleon To Victoria:

The Determined Reader Carla L. Peterson, 1986 The Novel's Seductions Karyna Szmurlo, 1999 The distinctive place of Stael's novel in literature and its disseminative powers are documented in Part III Genie at Large From Corilla Olimpica to Marguerite Yourcenar the critics depict affiliations among female writers striving for public recognition and explore the ideological textual borrowings among Corinne and other classic works Fictions of Authority Susan Sniader Lanser, 2018-03-15 Drawing on narratological and feminist theory Susan Sniader Lanser explores patterns of narration in a wide range of novels by women of England France and the United States from the 1740s to the present She sheds light on the history of voice as a narrative strategy and as a means of attaining social power She considers the dynamics in personal voice in authors such as Mary Shelley Charlotte Brontë Zora Neale Hurston and Jamaica Kincaid In writers who attempt a communal voice including Mary Wollstonecraft Elizabeth Gaskell Joan Chase and Monique Wittig she finds innovative strategies that challenge the conventions of Western narrative Wingless Chickens, Bayou Catholics, and Pilgrim Wayfarers L. Lamar Nisly, 2011 Flannery O'Connor Tim Gautreaux and Walker Percy are all Catholic writers from the South and seem to embody very fully both parts of that label Yet as quickly becomes clear in their writing their fiction employs markedly different tones and modes of addressing their audience O'Connor seems intent on shocking her reader whom she anticipates will be hostile to her deepest beliefs Gautreaux gently and humorously engages his reader inviting his expected sympathetic audience to embrace the characters needed moral growth Percy satirically lampoons an array of social ills and failings in the Church as he tries to get his audience laughing with him while he makes his deadly serious point about the flaws he finds in the church and larger culture Why do these three writers assume such divergent images of their audience Why do texts by three writers who each embrace their Southern locale and their Catholic beliefs seem to have so little in common To answer these questions Nisly helps readers understand these authors' fiction by examining the role that place and time had in shaping each author's idea of an audience and by extension his or her manner of addressing that audience More specifically Nisly focuses on each author's experience of Catholic community and each author's placement in relation to the Second Vatican Council Linking together biographical information and a reading of their fiction Nisly argues that O'Connor's Gautreaux's and Percy's sense of audience has been shaped in significant ways by each author's own local experience of Catholicism in his or her home region as well as the larger global changes of Vatican II that transformed Roman Catholicism

An Ethics of Becoming Sonjeong Cho, 2014-02-04 In attempting to conceptualize feminine subjectivity beyond the familiar paradigm of dualism and within the parameters of ethics this study examines the political and intellectual identity of contemporary poststructuralist feminism and its profound resonance with the nineteenth century British female Bildungsroman Rooted in fundamental questions about the nexus between feminist theory and feminist literature genre and gender subjectivity and ethics sexuality and textuality and mimesis and politics this book aims specifically to configure feminine subjectivity in the horizon of becoming always incomplete non identarian performative unknowable and thus paradoxically unbecoming as it disseminates in a modality of alterity in novels by Jane Austen Charlotte Bront and George Eliot The close reading of major novels by these women writers illuminates the artistic density and ethical depth of their writing by demonstrating that these women writers rewrite the genealogy of subjectivity and invent their own Bildungsroman as a rich narrative vehicle for the feminine

Married, Middlebrow, and Militant Teresa Mangum,1998 Examines the life and work of this daring nineteenth century author and women s rights advocate

Colonial Ideology and the classical 'Bildungsroman' José Santiago Fernández-Vázquez,2024-05-16 This book examines the ideological affinity that can be established between the classical Bildungsroman and colonialist ideology on the basis of a literary analysis of Wilhelm Meisters Lehrjahre considered by most critics to be the origin of the genre and Great Expectations one of the paradigmatic examples of the development of the Bildungsroman in English literature This ideological affinity is understood as an example of what the Palestinian critic Edward Said has called a structure of attitude and reference the convergence of different cultural manifestations that although formally independent contribute to a common purpose The monograph also undertakes a study of the main characteristics of the classical Bildungsroman from a formal and thematic point of view and an analysis of the relationship between genre theories and Eurocentric discourses
