

THE DIARY OF MARIA THOLO

August 13 1976

It's happened. Cape Town is no longer
the only quiet place in the country.
We have Soweto with us.

Wednesday started ordinarily. We were doing activities with the children . . . All of a sudden one of the mothers burst in. She was shouting, "Where's my child? I've come to fetch my child."

Guguletu is in turmoil. The schools are on strike.

The air's thick with teargas. Just go out and see . . .

Impossible Mourning Kylie Thomas, 2013-10-25 Impossible Mourning argues that while the HIV AIDS epidemic has figured largely in public discourse in South Africa over the last ten years particularly in debates about governance and constitutional rights post apartheid the experiences of people living with HIV for the most part remain invisible and the multiple losses due to AIDS have gone publicly unmourned This profound fact is at the center of this book which explores the significance of the disavowal of AIDS death in relation to violence death and mourning under apartheid Impossible Mourning shows how in spite of the magnitude of the epidemic and as a result of the stigma and discrimination that has largely characterized both national and personal responses to the epidemic spaces for the expression of collective mourning have been few This book engages with multiple forms of visual representation that work variously to compound undo and complicate the politics of loss Drawing on work Thomas did in art and narrative support groups while working with people living with HIV AIDS in Khayelitsha a township outside of the city of Cape Town this book also includes analyses of the work of South African visual artists and photographers Jane Alexander Gille de Vlieg Jillian Edelstein Pieter Hugo Ezrom Legae Gideon Mendel Zanele Muholi Sam Nhlengethwa Paul Stopforth and Diane Victor South African Feminisms M.J.

Daymond, 2013-05-13 This is the first collection of feminist critical essays by and about women in South Africa to appear outside of that country Many of the pieces were written after February 1990 when President de Klerk lifted the ban on black political organizations The recognition that a just society cannot be achieved without freedom from gender oppression as well as racial oppression informs these essays and has a direct bearing on the creation of a new society in South Africa Third World Women's Literatures Barbara Fister, 1995-09-14 This reference volume serves as a companion to Third World women's literatures in English and in English translation by presenting entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes What plays have been written by women in the developing world What books have been written by Sri Lankan or Brazilian women Which works address themes of feminism or exile or politics in the Third World These are the types of questions that can now be answered through Fister's companion to Third World women's literatures in English and English translation Organized alphabetically this reference volume presents entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes By providing information about and leads to works by and about Third World women an important and largely marginalized literature Fister has created a unique reference tool that will help teachers scholars and librarians both public and academic expand their definitions of the literary making the voices of Third World women available in the same format in which many companions to Western literature do An important book for all public and college level libraries The Cambridge History of South Africa: Volume 2, 1885-1994

/ Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers A Rainbow in the Night Dominique Lapierre,2009-11-03 In 1652 a small group of Dutch farmers landed on the southernmost tip of Africa Sent by the powerful Dutch India Company their mission was simply to grow vegetables and supply ships rounding the cape The colonists however were convinced by their strict Calvinist faith that they were among God s Elect chosen to rule over the continent Their saga bloody ferocious and fervent would culminate three centuries later in one of the greatest tragedies of history the establishment of a racist regime in which a white minority would subjugate and victimize millions of blacks Called apartheid it was a poisonous system that would only end with the liberation from prison of one of the moral giants of our time Nelson Mandela A Rainbow in the Night is Dominique Lapierre s epic account of South Africa s tragic history and the heroic men and women famous and obscure white and black European and African who have with their blood and tears brought to life the country that is today known as the Rainbow Nation
