The Day They Parachuted Cats On Borneo:

The Day They Parachuted Cats on Borneo Charlotte Pomerantz, 1971 Describes in rhyme the destruction of Borneo's ecological balance when DDT used to kill the malaria spreading mosquitoes also killed the cats causing a plague of rats and literally brought the roofs down on the farmers heads

Tales for Little Rebels Julia L. Mickenberg, Philip Nel, 2008-11 A rarely discussed aspect of children's literature the politics behind a book's creation has been thoroughly explored in this intelligent enlightening and fascinating account

Classroom Lessons Kate McGilly, 1994 A timely complement to John Bruer's Schools for Thought Classroom Lessons documents eight projects that apply cognitive research to improve classroom practice The chapter authors are all principal investigators in an influential research initiative on cognitive science and education Classroom Lessons describes their collaborations with classroom teachers aimed at improving teaching and learning for students in grades K-12 The eight projects cover writing mathematics history social science and physics Together they illustrate that principles emerging from cognitive science form the basis of a science of instruction that can be applied across the curriculum The book is divided into three sections applications of cognitive research to teaching specific content areas applications for learning across the curriculum and applications that challenge traditional concepts of classroom based learning environments Chapters consider explicit models of knowledge with corresponding instruction designed to enable learners to build on that knowledge acquisition of specified knowledge and what knowledge is useful in contemporary curricula Contributors Kate McGilly Sharon A Griffin Robbie Case and Robert S Siegler Earl Hunt and Jim Minstrell Kathryn T Spoehr Howard Gardner Mara Krechevsky Robert J Sternberg and Lynn Okagaki Irene W Gaskins The Cognition and Technology Group at Vanderbilt Marlene Scardamalia Carl Bereiter and Mary Lamon Ann L Brown and Joseph C Campione John T Bruer A Bradford Book

Theory and Practice of Biological Control C.B. Huffaker, 2012-12-02 The Theory and Practice of Biological Control covers conventional biological control achievement in the major crop types and in public health problems Composed of five sections encompassing 28 chapters this book discusses the basic information concerning developments in other biologically based alternatives to chemical pesticides The first two sections discuss the philosophy theory scope history and the biological and ecological bases of biological control These sections also deal with the impact of predators and the host relationships of parasitoids and pathogens The following section presents the methodological aspects of biological control Discussions on the variability of natural enemies as encountered in biological control work the fitness of individuals and populations the ways fitness is being or can be influenced by importation procedures and the ability of imported natural enemies to adapt to the new environment are included The fourth section outlines the accomplishments of conventional biological control in various types of crops forests and public health areas Lastly the various components of integrated pest control other than conventional biological control that forms the essential ways used in the integrated control approach are covered in the last section of the book This book is an ideal source for plant pathologists and researchers microbiologists parasitologists and public health professionals Learning Causality in a Complex World Tina A. Grotzer, 2012-06-28 What do children's interactions on the playground have to do with foreign policy How does science understanding in middle school relate to environmental disasters in third world countries The causal patterns that we detect and how we act upon them pervade every aspect of our lives These skills will only become more important in the future as our world becomes more global and more interconnected Yet we aren't very skilled at thinking about causality Research shows that instead we rely on limiting default assumptions that can lead to poor choices in a complex world What can we do about it This book offers ways to become aware of these patterns and to reframe our thinking to become more effective learners and citizens of the world Through examples and accessible explanations it offers a causal curriculum to enable more effective learning so that we can put the power of better causal understanding to work for ourselves and the next generation for today and tomorrow A Child's World Mary H. Lystad, 1974 Exploring Talk in School Neil Mercer, Steve Hodgkinson, 2008-09-23 Selected as an Outstanding Academic Title by Choice Magazine January 2010 Classroom talk by which children make sense of what their peers and teachers mean is the most important educational tool for guiding the development of understanding and for jointly constructing knowledge So what practical steps can teachers take to develop effective classroom interaction Bringing together leading international researchers and drawing on the pioneering work of Douglas Barnes this book considers ways of improving classroom talk Chapters cover classroom communication and managing social relations talk in science classrooms using critical conversations in studying literature exploratory talk and thinking skills talking to learn and learning to talk in the mathematics classroom the emerging pedagogy of the spoken word With an accessible blend of theory research and practice the book will be a valuable resource for teachers teacher trainers policy makers researchers and students Cultural Journeys Pamela S. Gates, Dianne L. Hall Mark, 2010-08-16 As multicultural education is becoming integral to the core curriculum teachers often implement this aspect into their courses through literature However standards and criteria to teach and promote active discussion about this literature are sparse Cultural Journeys introduces pre service and experienced teachers to the use of literature to promote active discussions that lead students to think about racial diversity More than just an annotated list of books for children Pamela S Gates and Dianne L Hall Mark provide systematic guidelines that teachers can use throughout their careers to evaluate multicultural literature for students in grades K-8 At the same time the text leads the reader to a deeper understanding of how to use multicultural literature throughout the entire curriculum and not just during specially designated months or time periods With the example unit plans and extensive annotated bibliography this book is a valuable resource that pre service teachers will utilize when they begin teaching and in service teachers will reference repeatedly during their planning periods
