The Deserted Stage:

Energy from the Desert Keiichi Komoto, 2013 This 4th volume in the established Energy From The Desert series examines and evaluates the potential and feasibility of Very Large Scale Photovoltaic Power Generation VLS PV systems which have capacities ranging from several megawatts to gigawatts and to develop practical project proposals toward implementing the VLS PV systems in the future Comprehensively analysing all major issues involved in such large scale applications based on the latest scientific and technological developments and by means of close international co operation with experts from different countries From the perspective of the global energy situation global warming and other environmental issues it is apparent that VLS PV systems can contribute substantially to global energy needs become economically and technologically feasible soon contribute significantly to the global environment protection contribute significantly to socio economic development Energy policies around the world are gradually changing direction to focus less on nuclear energy with the expectation to turn to denuclearization entirely with the negative impacts of nuclear energy while in parallel the importance of and expectations for renewable energy technologies are increasing drastically as possible energy infrastructure as well as environmental friendly technology This book recognises that very large scale solar electricity generation provides economic social and environmental benefits security of electricity supply and fair access to affordable and sustainable energy solutions and that VLS PV systems must be one of the promising options for large scale deployment of PV systems and renewable energy technologies

Energy from the Desert Kosuke Kurokawa, Keiichi Komoto, Peter van der Vleuten, David Faiman, 2012-05-04 The world's deserts are sufficiently large that in theory covering a fraction of their landmass with PV systems could generate many times the current primary global energy supply In three parts this study details the background and concept of VLS PV maps out a development path towards the realization of VLS PV systems and provides firm recommendations to achieve long term targets This represents the first study to provide a concrete set of answers to the questions that must be addressed in order to secure and exploit the potential for VLS PV technology and its global benefits campaign of World War II featuring a plethora of battlefield photographs from during the war and now Following Mussolini s declaration of war in June 1940 initially Italy faced only those British troops based in the Middle East but as the armed confrontation in the Western Desert of North Africa escalated other nations were drawn in Germany Australia India South Africa New Zealand France and finally the United States to wage the first major tank versus tank battles of the Second World War First tracing the history of the very early beginnings of civilisation in North Africa and on through the period of Italian colonisation Jean Paul Pallud begins his account when the initial shots were fired at the 11th Hussars as they approached

Italian outposts near Sidi Omar in Libya It proved to be the opening move of a campaign which was to last for three years When the Afrikakorps led by Rommel joined the battle in February 1941 the Germans soon gained the upper hand and recovered the whole of Cyrenaica minus Tobruk in the summer The campaign then swung back and forth across the desert for another year until Rommel finally captured Tobruk in June 1942 and then moved eastwards into Egypt With British fortunes at their lowest ebb changes in command led to Montgomery launching his offensive at El Alamein the following November This began the advance of the Eighth Army over a thousand miles to Tunisia resulting in the final round up of the German and Italian forces in May 1943 Jean Paul and his camera retraced the route just prior to the recent civil war in Libya and the uprisings in Tunisia and Egypt in 2011 so he was fortunate to capture the locations before yet another war left its trail of death and destruction Although the campaign in 1940 43 was dominated largely by armour nevertheless the Allies lost over 250 000 men killed wounded missing and captured and the Axis 620 000 Those that never came home lie in cemeteries scattered across the barren landscape of a battlefield that has changed little in over 70 years
