Globalising World for the Twenty-First Century MURRAY PRINT, Chuanbao Tan, 2016-12-14 What is needed to be a good citizen for the twenty first century And how can schools and curricula address this question This book addresses these questions and what it means to be a good citizen in the twenty first century by exploring this concept in two different but linked countries China is a major international power whose citizens are in the midst of a major social and economic transformation Australia is transforming itself into an Asian entity in multiple ways and is influenced by its major trading partner China Yet both rely on their education systems to facilitate and guide this transformation as both countries search for good citizens The book explores the issue of what it means to be a good citizen for the 21st century at the intersection between citizenship education and moral education The issue of what constitutes a good citizen is problematic in many countries and how both countries address this issue is vitally important to understanding how societies can function effectively in an increasingly interconnected world The book contends that citizenship education and moral education in both countries overlap on the task of how to educate for a good citizen Three key questions are the focus of this book 1 What is a good citizen in a globalizing world 2 How can good citizenship be nurtured in schools 3 What are the implications of the concept of good citizen in education particularly the school curriculum Murray Print PhD and Chuanbao Tan PhD are professors from the University of Sydney Australia and Beijing Normal University China respectively Both are national leaders within their respective countries and they have brought together a group of leading Australian and Chinese citizenship educators to explore these key questions

Research Review for School Leaders William G. Wraga, Peter S. Hlebowitsh, Founding Editor Tanner, Daniel Tanner, 2012-08-06 The Research Review for School Leaders Volume III is specifically designed as a practical resource for school leaders whose schedules preclude opportunities to locate and review key research on every issue they must address. It places comprehensive current and accessible reviews of educational research at their fingertips and is organized to make the research and practices it summarizes useful to them in their professional endeavors. This is the third volume of the Review. Although the title has changed, its purpose and substance is continuous with the work of the earlier volumes. The first Annual Review of Research for School Leaders 1996 summarized research on the status of public schooling, interdisciplinary curriculum, and educational applications of computers. The second volume 1998 addressed the topics of middle level education, the extracurriculum, mathematics education reform, and drop outs. The present Volume III offers educational leaders reviews of research on five timely educational issues: citizenship education, multicultural education, gifted and talented education, classroom assessment, and scheduling. A basic premise of this volume is that to make sound decisions, professionals need to be up to date on current research related to the problems with which they grapple. A second premise is that research cannot simply be imposed in a formulaic way on a local setting; the nature of the particular problem to be solved will always bear upon the relevance of research to a specific context. Thus, this volume is envisioned as a helpful resource for school leaders as they engage in important discussions of the research with teachers, school board members, parents, and other interested parties as they collaboratively seek effective resolutions to local educational problems.

Diversity and Citizenship Education James A. Banks, 2006-12-22 The increasing ethnic, racial, cultural, religious, and language diversity in nations throughout the world is forcing educators and policymakers to rethink existing notions of citizenship and nationality. To experience cultural democracy and freedom, a nation must be unified around a set of democratic values such as justice and equality that balance unity and diversity and protect the rights of diverse groups. Diversity and Citizenship Education: Global Perspectives brings together in one comprehensive volume a group of international experts on the topic of diversity and citizenship education. These experts discuss and identify the shared issues and possibilities that exist when educating for national unity and cultural diversity. Diversity and Citizenship Education: Global Perspectives presents compelling case studies and examples of successful programs and practices from twelve nations, discusses problems that arise when societies are highly stratified along race, cultural, and class lines, and describes guidelines and benchmarks that practicing educators can use to structure citizenship education programs that balance unity and diversity. The book covers a broad range of issues and includes vital information on such topics as Migration, citizenship and education, The challenge of racialized citizenship in the United States, The contribution of the struggles by Indians and Blacks for citizenship and recognition in Brazil, Crises of citizenship education and ethnic issues in Germany, Russia, and South Africa.
