Society And Its Criminals:

Society and Its Criminals Paul Reiwald, 1949 The Society of Prisoners Renaud Morieux, 2019-10-03 In the eighteenth century as wars between Britain France and their allies raged across the world hundreds of thousands of people were captured detained or exchanged They were shipped across oceans marched across continents or held in an indeterminate limbo The Society of Prisoners challenges us to rethink the paradoxes of the prisoner of war defined at once as an enemy and as a fellow human being whose life must be spared Renaud Morieux redefines how we understand the notion of what a prisoner of war was before international legal and social conventions were introduced in the eighteenth century the distinction between a prisoner of war a hostage a criminal and a slave was not always clear cut Morieux then uses war captivity as a lens through which to observe the eighteenth century state how it transformed itself and why it endured In so doing he invites the reader to trace the history of the prisoners via a journey between Britain France the West Indies and St Helena The Challenge of Crime in a Free Society United States. President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, 1967 This report of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice established by President Lyndon Johnson on July 23 1965 addresses the causes of crime and delinquency and recommends how to prevent crime and delinquency and improve law enforcement and the administration of criminal justice In developing its findings and recommendations the Commission held three national conferences conducted five national surveys held hundreds of meetings and interviewed tens of thousands of individuals Separate chapters of this report discuss crime in America juvenile delinquency the police the courts corrections organized crime narcotics and drug abuse drunkenness offenses gun control science and technology and research as an instrument for reform Significant data were generated by the Commission's National Survey of Criminal Victims the first of its kind conducted on such a scope The survey found that not only do Americans experience far more crime than they report to the police but they talk about crime and the reports of crime engender such fear among citizens that the basic quality of life of many Americans has eroded The core conclusion of the Commission however is that a significant reduction in crime can be achieved if the Commission's recommendations some 200 are implemented The recommendations call for a cooperative attack on crime by the Federal Government the States the counties the cities civic organizations religious institutions business groups and individual citizens They propose basic changes in the operations of police schools prosecutors employment agencies defenders social workers prisons housing authorities and probation and parole officers The Criminal Crowd and Other Writings on Mass Society Scipio Sighele, 2018-11-23 The Criminal Crowd and Other Writings on Mass Society is the first collection in English of writings by Italian jurist sociologist and cultural and literary critic Scipio Sighele 1868 1913 In post unification Italy and internationally Sighele was an important figure in contemporary debates on such issues as popular unrest the problematic borders between individual and collective accountability the role of urbanization in the development of criminality and the emancipation of

Writings on Human Rights, Law, and Society in India Harsh Dobhal, 2011 Changes in Society, Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe C. J. C. F. Fijnaut, Johan Goethals, 1995. In 1994, the School of Criminology, a part of the Department of Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, and Criminology in the Faculty of Law of the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, celebrated the 25th anniversary of its study programme. To give added lustre to this landmark in its history, the Institute accepted the invitation from the International Society of Criminology to organise the 49th International Course of Criminology. The title of the course was Changes in Society, Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe: A challenge for criminological education and research. This course explored two themes, both of which are likely to be the focus of debate in criminal policy in the near future: crime and insecurity in the city and international organised and corporate crime. The presentation and discussion of both themes followed two main approaches. Lectures and seminars focused on the analysis of the nature, the quantity, and the development of the phenomena, and meetings were focused on the policy needed to gain control of these phenomena. Moreover, attention was paid to technical and ethical problems which show up at the moment that empirical research is carried out. This publication brings together the main part of the introductory lectures. Part one relates to the theme of crime and insecurity in the city; the second part contains the lectures on international organised and corporate crime. Together, both parts present a good picture of what was explained and commented on during the Course, especially in relation to important European developments concerning crime, criminal justice, and criminal policy. This book will become an important source of inspiration for both criminological education and research. Society of Terror Paul Neurath, Nico Stehr, Christian Fleck, 2015-12-22 During 1938 and 1939 Paul Neurath was a Jewish political prisoner in the concentration camps at Dachau and Buchenwald He owed his survival to a temporary Nazi policy allowing release of prisoners who were willing to go into exile and the help of friends on the outside who helped him obtain a visa He fled to Sweden before coming to the United States in 1941 In 1943 he completed The Society of Terror based on his experiences in Dachau and Buchenwald He embarked on a long career teaching sociology and statistics at universities in the United States and later in Vienna until his death in September 2001 After liberation the horrific images of the extermination camps abounded from Dachau Buchenwald and other places Neurath's chillingly factual discussion of his experience as an inmate and his astute observations of the conditions and the social structures in Dachau and Buchenwald captivate the reader not only because of their authenticity but also because of the work's proximity to the events and the absence of influence of later interpretations His account is unique also because of the exceptional links Neurath establishes between personal experience and theoretical reflection the persistent oscillation between the distanced and sober view of the scientist and that of the prisoner
