Geometric Optical Illusions Al Seckel, 2005 Optical illusions created primarily with geometric effects Supervisions Al Seckel, 2006 These amazing artistic optical illusions have real depth that's because they're in 3D Some have to be viewed through a pair of red blue paper glasses which come with the book put them on watch decorative cubes towers other complex geometric drawings spring to life gaining volume space Topsy-Turvy Optical Illusions Al Seckel, 2006 Presenting the largest most incredible collection of topsy turvy optical illusions ever created with a stunning mix of classics and previously unpublished designs Topsy turvys all contain two different images in one picture you just have to look carefully to see them both Vanishing Rabbit for example is pure magic one moment the bunny is in the magician's hat and the next it's gone leaving just the conjurer Are those ladies in the Bearded Girls illusion Turn the page upside down and check again now they've turned into bearded men Courtship and Matrimony a nineteenth century satirical card gives a before and after view of marriage The variety of art styles ranges from cartoon to classical and every illustration has a fun surprise The Ultimate Book of Optical Illusions Al Seckel, 2006 Contains color and black and white illustrations of over three hundred optical illusions each with brief explanatory text A Dictionary of Hallucinations Jan Dirk Blom, 2009-12-08 A Dictionary of Hallucinations is designed to serve as a reference manual for neuroscientists psychiatrists psychiatric residents psychologists neurologists historians of psychiatry general practitioners and academics dealing professionally with concepts of hallucinations and other sensory deceptions Hallucinations Jan Dirk Blom, Iris E.C. Sommer, 2011-12-21 The work aims to provide an overview of the field of contemporary hallucinations research It will consist of 28 chapters the writing of which will be put out to international experts specialized in the specific fields at hand The work aims to be unique in that it intends to cover many different types of hallucination and to approach the subject matter from four different perspectives i.e. conceptual phenomenological neuroscientific and therapeutic Supervisions, 2007 The Vision Revolution Mark Changizi, 2010-06-08 In The Vision Revolution How the Latest Research Overturns Everything We Thought We Knew About Human Vision Mark Changizi prominent neuroscientist and vision expert addresses four areas of human vision and provides explanations for why we have those particular abilities complete with a number of full color illustrations to demonstrate his conclusions and to engage the reader Written for both the casual reader and the science buff hungry for new information The Vision Revolution is a resource that dispels commonly believed perceptions about sight and offers answers drawn from the field's most recent research Changizi focuses on four why questions 1 Why do we see in color 2 Why do our eyes face forward 3 Why do we see illusions 4 Why does reading come so naturally to us Why Do We See in Color It was commonly believed that color vision evolved to help our primitive ancestors identify ripe fruit Changizi says we should look closer to home ourselves Human color vision evolved to give us greater insights into the mental states and health of other people People who can see color changes in skin have an advantage over their color blind counterparts they can see when people are blushing with embarrassment purple faced with exertion or the reddening of rashes Changizi's research reveals that the cones in our eyes that allow us to see color are exquisitely designed exactly for seeing color changes in the skin And it's no coincidence that the primates with color vision are the ones with bare spots on their faces and other body parts Changizi shows that the development of color vision in higher primates closely parallels the loss of facial hair culminating in the near hairlessness and highly developed color vision of humans

Why Do Our Eyes Face Forward Forward facing eyes set us apart from most mammals and there is much dispute as to why we have them While some speculate that we evolved this feature to give us depth perception available through stereo vision this type of vision only allows us to see short distances and we already have other mechanisms that help us to estimate distance Changizi's research shows that with two forward facing eyes primates and humans have an x-ray ability Specifically we're able to see through the cluttered leaves of the forest environment in which we evolved This feature helps primates see their targets in a crowded encroached environment To see how this works hold a finger in front of your eyes You'll find that you're able to look through it at what is beyond your finger One of the most amazing feats of two forward facing eyes Our views aren't blocked by our noses beaks etc

Why Do We See Illusions We evolved to see moving objects not where they are but where they are going to be Without this ability we couldn't catch a ball because the brain's ability to process visual information isn't fast enough to allow us to put our hands in the right place to intersect for a rapidly approaching baseball If our brains simply created a perception of the way the world was at the time light hit the eye then by the time that perception was elicited which takes about a tenth of a second for the brain to do time would have marched on and the perception would be of the recent past Changizi explains Simply put illusions occur when our brain is tricked into thinking that a stationary two dimensional picture has an element that is moving Our brains project the moving element into the future and as a result we don't see what's on the page but what our brain thinks will be the case a fraction of a second into the future

Why Does Reading Come So Naturally to Us We can read faster than we can hear which is odd considering that reading is relatively recent American Book Publishing Record, 2005

Biocybernetics Of Vision: Integrative Mechanisms And Cognitive Processes Cloe Taddei-ferretti, 1998-01-15

Visual cognition is an important area of biocybernetics It ranges from the filtering processes of early vision to the structural and functional organization of the visual centres as well as in higher animals to the neuronal plasticity the decision making rules the effect of noise the role of attention the ambiguity of patterns and the time dimension All these factors contribute to the cognitive interpretation of visual sensation that takes place in visual perception A side field is machine vision in which the signal processing known from animal vision is applied to the mobile robots responding to light stimulation
