Support Of Breastfeeding:

A Guide to Supporting Breastfeeding for the Medical Profession Amy Brown, Wendy Jones, 2019-12-05 This book is a practical guide for medical practitioners as they navigate through breastfeeding problems that occur in day to day practice. If mothers have a breastfeeding complication they are often directed to their GP. In complex situations medical staff will be making decisions around what treatment plan to follow and whether a mother can keep breastfeeding. In recent years there has been growing evidence that medical professionals often advise mothers to stop breastfeeding while undergoing treatment when in reality this was not a necessary step. In a time when breastfeeding rates are decreasing it is important that medical professionals give accurate advice and support a mother's choice to breastfeed if the situation allows it. A Guide to Supporting Breastfeeding for the Medical Profession includes contributions from a wide range of medical professionals and each chapter is written with the practitioner in mind. Contributors include GPs, paediatricians, neonatologists, lactation specialists and midwives. Doctors have a vital role to play in supporting and facilitating breastfeeding and without the appropriate knowledge they can often inadvertently sabotage it. This book will be of interest to GPs and paediatricians as well as nurse prescribers, midwives and health visitors. Protecting, Promoting and Supporting Breastfeeding Mary A. Uyoga, Seema Mhirshahi, Bindi Borg, 2025-03-14 Breastfeeding is widely recognized as the best start to life for all infants and one of the most effective and cost effective investments nations can make for the future health of their community. The World Health Organisation recommends exclusive breastfeeding for the first 6 months of life and introduction of nutritionally adequate and safe complementary solid foods at 6 months together with continued breastfeeding up to 2 years of age or beyond. Enabling women to breastfeed is key to the sustainable development goals as it improves nutrition, ensures food security and reduces inequalities between and within countries. Lack of breastfeeding is an important issue with health, social and economic implications. Infants who do not receive breast milk are more likely to experience infections and poorer health outcomes than breastfed infants. In addition there are also health implications for mothers who do not breastfeed. The role of midwives and nurses in protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding, 2021-08-04 All midwives and nurses have a valuable role in facilitating the health of mothers, infants and children through protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding. We urge government leaders, policymakers, managers, implementers and funders to value this role and invest in providing midwives and nurses with the time to provide quality care. Breastfeeding United States.
