Supporting Lifelong Learning Vol 1 Perspective On Learning:

Philosophical Perspectives on Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, 2007-08-18 This book provides an easily accessible practical yet scholarly source of information about the international concern for the philosophy theory categories and concepts of lifelong learning Written in a straightforward understandable manner the book examines in depth the range of philosophical perspectives in the field of lifelong learning theory policy practice and applied scholarship

Supporting Workplace Learning Rob F. Poell, Marianne van Woerkom, 2011-01-19 During the 1990s the workplace was rediscovered as a rich source of learning The issue of workplace learning has since received increasing attention from academics and practitioners alike but is still under researched empirically This book brings together a range of state of the art research papers addressing interventions to support learning in the workplace The authors are experienced international scholars who have an interest in making HRD and workplace learning practices more evidence based through practical relevant research Although workplace learning is largely an autonomous process many organizations want to manage it as part of their broader HRD strategy There are limits however to the extent to which the complex dynamics of learning in the workplace can be guided in pre determined desirable directions This tension between the possible strengths of workplace learning and the limits of managing it is at the heart of this volume The book is broken into three sections The first section deals with workplace learning interventions including HRD practitioners strategies training and development activities and e learning programs The second section investigates the impact of social support or lack thereof in workplace learning such as mentoring coaching and socialization practices The third section addresses collective learning in the workplace looking at teams knowledge productivity and collaborative capability building

The SAGE Handbook of Workplace Learning Margaret Malloch, Len Cairns, Karen Evans, Bridget N O'Connor, 2010-09-21 This Handbook provides a state of the art overview of the field of workplace learning from a global perspective The authors are all well placed theoreticians researchers and practitioners in this burgeoning field which cuts across higher education vocational education and training post compulsory secondary schooling and lifelong education The volume provides a broad based yet incisive analysis of the range of theory research and practical developments in workplace learning The editors draw together the three essential areas of Theory Research and Practice and Issues and Futures in the field of Workplace Learning In addition final chapters include recommendations for further development Key researchers and writers in the field have approached workplaces as the base of learning about work that is work based learning There has also been emerging interest in variations of this idea such as learning about through and at work Many of the theoretical discussions have centred on adult learning and some on learners managing their own learning with emphasis on aspects such as communities of practice and self directed learning In Europe and Australia early work in the field was often linked to the Vocational Education and Training VET traditions with concerns around skills competencies and on the job learning The idea that learning and workplaces had more to do with real lifelong and lifewide aspects than traditional training regimens has emerged in the last decade Since the mid 1990s the field has grown world wide as an area of theory research and practical work that has not only expanded the interest but has also legitimized the area as a field of study reflection and progress The SAGE Handbook of Workplace Learning draws together a wide range of views theoretical dispositions and assertions and provides a leading edge presentation by key writers and researchers with insight into the field and its current state It is a resource for researchers and academics interested in the scope and breadth of Workplace Learning

Supporting Lifelong Learning Julia Clarke,Ann Hanson,Roger Harrison,Fiona Reeve,2001-11-22 This Open University Reader examines the practices of learning and teaching which have been developed to support lifelong learning and the understanding and assumptions which underpin them The selection of texts trace the widening scope of academic understanding of learning and teaching and considers the implications for those who develop programmes of learning It examines in great depth those theories which have had the greatest impact in the field theories of reflection and learning from experience and theories of situated learning The implications of these theories are examined in relation to themes which run across the reader namely workplace learning literacies and the possibilities offered by information and communication technologies The particular focus of this Reader is on the psychological or cognitive phenomena that happen in the minds of individual learners The readings have been selected to represent a range of experience in different sectors of education from around the globe

Medical Education: Theory and Practice E-Book Tim Dornan,Karen V. Mann,Albert J J A Scherpbier,John A. Spencer,2011-12-02 Medical Education Theory and Practice is a new text linking the theory and the practice for graduate students and educators who want to go beyond the basics The scholarship of medical education is above all a practice but one that has a strong theoretical foundation Neither theory nor practice stand still and both are grounded in research The novelty of this book lies in its interweaving of practice theory innovation and research The book starts with a theorised contemporary overview of the field Next it explores the theoretical foundations of medical education in depth The remainder of the book reviews a whole a range of educational contexts processes and outcomes This work has been edited by a distinguished international team of medical educationalists and written by equally accomplished authors from across the globe representing a spectrum of disciplines This will be an invaluable text for all Masters Students in health professions education as well as PhD students and education researchers wanting a background to the discipline Educators and medical students will also find it a very useful resource Written by key figures in medical educational research combined with a strong editorial influence from the international editorial team The text has a strong evidence based approach that is fully cognisant of research methodology issues The book provides a scholarly explanation on the topic rather than aiming to say the last word Written throughout in a clear and comprehensible style The content is extensively referenced with additional suggestions for further reading
