Surgeon Generals Call To Action To Prevent And Decrease Overweight And Obesity 2001:

The Obesity Myth Paul Campos, 2004-05-03 Is your weight hazardous to your health According to public health authorities 65 percent of us are overweight Every day we are bombarded with dire warnings about America's obesity epidemic Close to half of the adult population is dieting obsessed with achieving an arbitrary ideal weight Yet studies show that a moderately active larger person is likely to be far healthier and to live longer than someone who is thin but sedentary And contrary to what the fifty billion dollar per year weight loss industry would have us believe medical science has not yet come up with a way to make people thin After years spent scrutinizing medical studies and interviewing leading doctors scientists eating disorder specialists and psychiatrists Professor Paul Campos is here to lead the backlash against weight hysteria and to show that we can safeguard our health without obsessing about the numbers on the scale But The Obesity Myth is not just a compelling argument grounded in the latest scientific research it's also a provocative wry exposé of the culture that feeds on our self-defeating war on fat Campos will show How the nation's most prestigious and trusted media sources consistently misinform the public about obesity What the movie industry's love affair with the fat suit tells us about the relationship between racial and body-based prejudice in America How the skinny elite with their supersized lifestyles and gas-guzzling SUVs project their anxieties about overconsumption on the poorer and heavier underclass How weight loss mania fueled the impeachment of Bill Clinton In this paradigm-busting read Professor Campos challenges the conventional wisdom regarding the medical political and cultural meaning of weight and brings a rational and compelling new voice to America's increasingly irrational weight debate The Burden of Overweight & Obesity in Alaska, 2003 The Surgeon General's Call to Action to Prevent and Decrease Overweight and Obesity 2001 Office of the Surgeon, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 2019-07-27 Overweight and obesity have reached nationwide epidemic proportions Both the prevention and treatment of overweight and obesity and their associated health problems are important public health goals To achieve these goals The Surgeon General's Call To Action To Prevent and Decrease Overweight and Obesity is committed to five overarching principles Promote the recognition of overweight and obesity as major public health problems Assist Americans in balancing healthful eating with regular physical activity to achieve and maintain a healthy or healthier body weight Identify effective and culturally appropriate interventions to prevent and treat overweight and obesity Encourage environmental changes that help prevent overweight and obesity Develop and enhance public-private partnerships to help implement this vision Fast Food and Junk Food Andrew F. S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of the Surgeon General, 2012-07-23 Our nation stands at a crossroads Today s epidemic of overweight and obesity threatens the historic progress we have made in increasing American s quality and years of healthy life Two third of adults and nearly one in three children are overweight or obese In addition many racial and ethnic groups and geographic regions of the United States are disproportionately affected The sobering impact of these numbers is reflected in the nation s concurrent epidemics of diabetes heart disease and other chronic diseases If we do not reverse these trends researchers warn that many of our children our most precious resource will be seriously afflicted in early adulthood with medical conditions such as diabetes and heart disease This future is unacceptable The Surgeon General asks you to join me in combating this crisis Every one of us has an important role to play in the prevention and control of obesity Mothers fathers teachers business executives child care professionals clinicians politicians and government and community leaders we must all commit to changes that promote the health and wellness of our families and communities As a nation we must create neighborhood communities that are focused on healthy nutrition and regular physical activity where the healthiest choices are accessible for all citizens Children should be having fun and playing in environments that provide parks recreational facilities community centers and walking and bike paths Healthy foods should be affordable and accessible Increased consumer knowledge and awareness about healthy nutrition and physical activity will foster a growing demand for healthy food products and exercise options dramatically influencing marketing trends Hospitals work sites and communities should make it easy for mothers to initiate and sustain breastfeeding as this practice has been shown to prevent childhood obesity Working together we will create an environment that promotes and facilitates healthy choices for all Americans And we will live longer and healthier lives In the 2001 Surgeon General s Call to Action to Prevent and Decrease Overweight and Obesity former Surgeon General David Satcher MD PhD warned us of the negative effects of the increasing weight of our citizens and outlined a public health response to reverse the trend. Although we have made some strides since 2001, the prevalence of obesity, obesity-related diseases, and premature death remains too high. The Surgeon General is calling on all Americans to join in a national grassroots effort to reverse this trend. Plans include showing people how to choose nutritious food, add more physical activity to their daily lives, and manage the stress that so often derails their best efforts at developing healthy habits. The real goal is not just a number on a scale but optimal health for all Americans at every stage of life. To achieve this goal, we must all work together to share resources, educate our citizens, and partner with business and government leaders to find creative solutions in our neighborhoods, towns, and cities from coast to coast. Together, we can become a nation committed to becoming healthy and fit.

In the 2001 Surgeon General's Call to Action to Prevent and Decrease Overweight and Obesity, former Surgeon General David Satcher, MD, PhD, warned of the negative effects of the increasing weight of American citizens and outlined a public health response to reverse the trend. The Surgeon General plans to strengthen and expand this blueprint for action created by her predecessor. Although the country has made some strides since 2001, the prevalence of obesity, obesity-related diseases, and premature death remains too high.
