Surgery At The District Hospital Obstetrics Gynaecology Orthopaedics And Traumatology:

Surgery at the District Hospital John Cook, World Health Organization, 1991-01-01 An illustrated guide to essential surgical procedures for treating the major complications of pregnancy and childbirth and for managing traumatic injuries including fractures and burns Gynecological procedures commonly required in small hospitals are also covered Throughout the book emphasis is placed on standard surgical protocols that represent the safest line of action in hospital settings where equipment may be primitive drugs limited and specialist services sparse The first six chapters describe essential procedures for treating the major complications of pregnancy and childbirth and for preventing maternal deaths Life threatening emergencies such as obstructed labor and ruptured ectopic pregnancy are covered together with more general obstetric procedures Gynecological operations form the focus of four chapters which describe general gynecological procedures techniques for female sterilization and IUD insertion and procedures for obtaining biopsy or cytological samples from the endometrium cervix and vulva The remaining 14 chapters describe essential techniques in orthopedics and traumatology providing details on both basic orthopedic techniques and the management of specific fractures dislocations burns and other injuries

Surgical Care at the District Hospital World Health Organization, 2003-07-21 Many patients who present to district first referral level hospitals require surgical treatment for trauma obstetric abdominal or orthopedic emergencies Often surgery cannot be safely postponed to allow their transfer to a secondary or tertiary level hospital but many district hospitals in developing countries have no specialist surgical teams and are staffed by medical nursing and paramedical personnel who perform a wide range of surgical procedures often with inadequate training The quality of surgical and acute care is often further constrained by poor facilities inadequate low technology apparatus and limited supplies of drugs materials and other essentials The mission of the team responsible for Clinical Procedures in the World Health Organization Department of Essential Health Technologies EHT is to promote the quality of clinical care through the identification promotion and standardization of appropriate procedures equipment and materials particularly at district hospital level WHO BCT has identified education and training as a particular priority especially for non specialist practitioners who practice surgery and anesthesia It has therefore developed Surgical Care at the District Hospital as a practical resource for individual practitioners and for use in undergraduate and postgraduate programs in service training and continuing medical education programs The manual is a successor of three earlier publications that are widely used throughout the world and that remain important reference texts General Surgery at the District Hospital WHO 1988 Surgery at the District Hospital Obstetrics Gynecology Orthopedics and Traumatology WHO 1991 Anesthesia at the District Hospital WHO 1988 second edition 2000 This new manual draws together material from these three publications into a single volume which includes new and updated material as well as material from Managing Complications in Pregnancy and Childbirth A Guide for Midwives and Doctors WHO 2000 General Surgery at the District Hospital World Health Organization, 1991 Anaesthesia at the District

Hospital Michael B. Dobson, 2000 This practical manual is designed to help medical officers in small hospitals provide safe and effective anesthesia for patients Intended for doctors with at least one year of postgraduate clinical experience it describes anesthetic techniques suitable for use in hospitals with limited resources Chapter 2 describes fundamental principles and techniques underlying the practice of anesthesia and outlines immediate and continuing care of critically ill or unconscious patients Chapter 3 focuses on continuing care of unconscious and anesthetized patients The focus of Chapter 4 is on the principles of fluid and electrolyte therapy Chapters 5 and 6 cover patient assessment before anesthesia and general anesthesia Chapter 7 concerns safe clinical use of anesthetic equipment best suited for and most likely found in district hospitals Chapter 8 contains examples of general anesthetic techniques feasible in small or medium sized hospitals Chapter 9 provides information on drugs Chapter 10 suggests techniques for conduction anesthesia Chapters 11 and 12 discuss choosing and planning the anesthetic technique and postoperative care of the patient Chapters 13 and 14 discuss special needs of pediatric and obstetric anaesthesia and important medical conditions Chapter 15 covers oxygen gas supplies equipment and maintenance Numerous illustrations convey technical details tables charts and checklists summarize lines of action and points to remember Checklists and an index are appended YLB

The Management of Mass Burn Casualties and Fire Disasters M. Masellis, S. William A. Gunn, 2007-07-23 Thermal harm is one of the most traumatizing assaults on man and his environment Whether suffered by living beings as burn injury or sustained by societal structures as fire damage the resulting physical pain and material loss can be extremely distressing both to the person and to society The health professions and in particular burn specialists have been continually developing effective means of combating burn disease and promoting rehabilitation of the victims especially in mass casualty situations In parallel various levels of the community have been mobilizing fire prevention and fire fighting mechanisms that protect society and the environment from the ever increasing hazards of fire disasters It is therefore surprising that while aiming at the same objective the two sectors have rarely come together doctor has rarely worked with fire chief Yet both disciplines have so much to learn from and contribute to each other s efforts The Mediterranean Burns Club is a professional organization that brings together persons concerned with burn therapy and fire safety in all forms especially in the countries of the Mediterranean basin It is honoured to have been identified by the United Nations as a premier scientific body in its field within the programme of the International Decade for Natural Disaster Reduction It is therefore natural that it should have initiated an international gathering of specialists engaged in burns as a surgical clinical problem and of counterparts dealing with fires as a societal disaster management problem

Contemporary Obstetrics and Gynecology for Developing Countries Friday Okonofua, Joseph A. Balogun, Kunle Odunsi, Victor N. Chilaka, 2021-08-05 This book is a comprehensive and easy to read guide to obstetrics and gynecology in developing countries Although significant progress has been made towards the reduction of maternal mortality and morbidity globally they are still unacceptably high in developing countries This can be directly or indirectly tied to poor quality maternal health care and lack of access to cost effective comprehensive healthcare Health practitioners in developing countries also contend with trying to keep abreast of recent developments in obstetrics and gynecology while dealing with lack of time resources and access to relevant information This textbook was thus created by experts in obstetrics and gynecology with extensive experience in African clinical settings and consultants in developed countries to teach proper and accurate diagnosis treatment and management of gynecologic and obstetric health issues within the context of developing countries This second edition has been fully updated throughout with an added 25 chapters that cover topics such as reproductive health gynecological cancers and research methods The book is divided into six sections Women s Reproductive Health Obstetrics Medical and Surgical Disorders in Pregnancy General Gynecology Gynecological Malignancies Health Systems Organization Research Methodology and Biostatistics These section topics have been carefully covered by expert authors with the use of valid scientific data policy instruments and adapted to the cultural and social context of developing countries with particular in depth coverage of conditions that have greater prevalence and incidence in developing countries Each chapter also focuses on filling gaps in knowledge with a distinct pedagogical approach starting with a set of learning objectives and ending with key takeaways for the chapter This is an ideal guide for residents medical students practitioners of obstetrics and gynecology midwives general practitioners and pediatricians particularly those working in developing countries

Guidelines for Essential Trauma Care World Health Organization, International Society of Surgery, International Association for the Surgery of Trauma and Surgical Intensive Care, 2004 Injury is an increasingly significant health problem throughout the world accounting for 16 per cent of the global burden of disease The public health burden of death and disability from injury is particularly notable in low and middle income countries These guidelines seek to establish practical and affordable standards applicable to injury or trauma care worldwide whether in rural health posts small hospitals hospitals staffed by specialists or tertiary care centres It sets out a list of key trauma treatment services designed to be achievable in all settings and defines the various human and physical resources required It also includes a number of recommendations for methods to promote such standards including training performance improvement trauma team organisation and hospital inspection

Rehabilitation Surgery for Deformities Due to Poliomyelitis World Health Organization, 1993 An illustrated guide to surgical procedures that can facilitate rehabilitation of selected patients with deformities due to poliomyelitis Addressed to doctors providing surgical services in district hospitals the book concentrates on simple procedures that can significantly facilitate rehabilitation and improve the physical independence of polio victims The importance of including physical therapy in the management of patients is repeatedly emphasized The manual can be used for training purposes or as an aide mTmoire The book covers both simple essential procedures that can be carried out by a general duty doctor with some experience in an average district hospital and those more difficult procedures that require more experience and better than average facilities Most of the procedures covered are corrective and stabilizing procedures on the lower limbs which aim to enable patients to stand and move The book features nine chapters presented in two parts Chapters in the first part describe the disease and its sequelae provide detailed advice on the tests to be used when evaluating patients and selecting the appropriate procedures and explain a number of basic surgical techniques Chapters in the second and most extensive part describe specific surgical procedures for the hip knee foot and ankle and elbow Although some procedures involving bone are described the handbook stresses that these techniques require more training and experience

Humanitarian Charter and Minimum Standards in Disaster Response, 2004 Following the worldwide success of the first edition of The Sphere Handbook this new second edition is the result of feedback from current users and from training workshops with revisions from a focal group of representatives from major organisations Key changes include addition of an entirely new section on Food security revisions from a cross cutting review on Gender Children Elderly Disabled Environment HIV AIDS Protection updated and refined qualitative and quantitative indicators expanded introduction and development of common standards clearer cross referencing and more concise user friendly text The new edition is in the same handy format and structure with a new CD ROM featuring the full text
