

COLORECTAL SURGERY

VCA surgeons have been at the forefront of colorectal surgery in Northern Virginia for over 50 years. Our providers have performed thousands of these procedures, ranging from life-saving colorectal resections to the most advanced robotic procedures available. We were the first to perform minimally invasive colon surgery in the area, when others said it couldn't be done. Now laparoscopic colon surgery is routine. We were the first locally to perform robotic rectal resection surgery. Some say that will be routine, too, but even so it will a rarity and our patients to rest of a few months.

While all of our surgeons are fully trained in colorectal surgery and perform these procedures routinely, we also have 2 fellowship-trained colorectal surgeons in our group. These providers offer not only the full spectrum of standard colorectal procedures, but also are skilled in those cases that are not of the colitis, complex anastomotic problems, inflammatory bowel disease, and unusual conditions of the colon. Together we work as a team to provide the population of Northern Virginia the highest volume of colorectal surgical care of any surgical practice.

We strive to make the surgical journey through these often major surgeries as comfortable and streamlined as possible for our patients. From extensive preoperative educational materials and information consultations to in-house colonoscopies from the widest selection of hospitals to the greatest depth of surgical experience, VCA is there to serve the patient as only we can.

We strive to make the stressful journey through these often major surgeries as comfortable and streamlined as possible for our patients.
