Written by... Carmen L. F. Wong, 2013-04-18 As a fairy tale writer Gavin empowers his protagonists with magic In real life he longs to deploy it and wishes to believe in it doubtlessly as his young readers do He believes his wife has got lost in the Fairyland he creates He is obsessed to find her there and bring her back One day absent minded or desirably he writes his protagonist Long out from ancient China through the power of a magic feather he created for this poor painter Gavin borrows the feather and enters into his imagined story world Long discovers the power to write someone's fate and has got his chance But both men are now trapped in a place they don't belong Two different worlds different adventures they are going to experience but it is the inspiration from the same person Zoe Gavin's eight year old daughter that rescues them body and mind The Battle of the Sexes Russian Style Nadezhda Ptushkina, 2018-01-01 Ptushkina's plays reflect her keen interest in constructing multidimensional characters that reflect the myriad ways people are affected by today's turbulent world Often writing strong female roles she does not shy away from exploring the sometimes tragic implications that lie behind her comical almost farcical scenes Ptushkina questions the nature of love and explores the boundaries between the spiritual and the base the constructive and the destructive that lie within every human being Her writing questions the relationship between ideals and reality and between truth and deception In this new translation western readers have a chance to discover why Ptushkina's work holds such a wide appeal in the Russian theatre The universal themes of love the need for human closeness and multifaceted complex female characters make Nadezhda Ptushkina's plays desirable material for any professional theatre says Slava Yastremski in the preface to this edition Current edition contains such famous Ptushkina's plays as I Pay Up Front Somebody Else's Candlelight Momma's Dying Again My Goldfish and Rachel
