The Pleroma An Essay On The Origin Of Christianity:

The Pleroma Paul Carus, 2007-04-01 Christianity according to Paul Carus is the grandchild of ancient paganism its character predetermined by everything that came before it growing naturally from preceding ages to become the fulfilment of the times the pleroma of the ages Arguing that Christianity was derived not from Judaism but was the legitimate result of the religious development of mankind the author presents his case in this work first published in 1909 for the gentile character of Christianity While his interpretation may be provocative his explorations into paganism Gnostic movements kindred sects and the origins of Judaism make this book essential reading for anyone interested in the history of religion American philosopher and theologian PAUL CARUS 1852 1919 also wrote The Religion of Science 1893 The Gospel of Buddha 1894 and The History of the Devil 1900 The Pleroma Paul Carus, 2017-08-30 The Pleroma; an Essay on the Origin of Christianity Paul Carus, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1909 edition Excerpt CHAPTER XIX THE FUTURE OF CHRISTIANITY NOW THE question arises What will become of Christianity If the historical events of the past are to be taken as precedents religions come and pass away according to definite conditions They will have their beginning and their end and Christianity may disappear just as the religions of antiquity died out Christianity had its origin it reached the heights of its dogmatic unfoldment it passed through several phases and at present the current views of its most essential doctrines are fast changing We have lost the naivete of our forefathers Some dogmas have been considerably modified others have been silently dropped and not a few have become purely symbolical Upon the whole we may say that we no longer believe in the letter of the credo Are these facts to be considered as symptoms of decay which indicate the end of Christianity We do not think so all depends upon Christianity and its representatives If Christianity possesses sufficient innate strength to assimilate the new truths of science it will survive and emerge from the present crisis stronger than before but if it rejects the new revelation it is doomed It has been customary to characterize scientific truth as secular and purely human in contrast with theological truth as divine but this conception is based upon an error The truth of science if it is genuine truth is not made by man it is superhuman Scientific truths are not fashioned by scientists they are discovered and being the eternalities of existence they represent the divine thoughts that sway the world Science is a genuine revelation and we may look upon it to use theological language as the revelation of the Holy Spirit There is a great truth Pleroma Dr. Paul Carus, 2019 Clairvoyance and Clairaudience - Premonitions and Impressions Edward B.
