

NOTHING GOLD CAN STAY

BY ROBERT FROST

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

The Poet Laury Ate And Other Poems:

The Trouble with Poetry Billy Collins, 2007-03-13 Playfulness spare elegance and wit epitomize the poetry of Billy Collins With his distinct voice and accessible language America's two term Poet Laureate has opened the door to poetry for countless people for whom it might otherwise remain closed Like the present book's title Collins's poems are filled with mischief humor and irony Poetry speaks to all people it is said but here I would like to address only those in my own time zone but also with quiet observation intense wonder and a reverence for the everyday The birds are in their trees the toast is in the toaster and the poets are at their windows They are at their windows in every section of the tangerine of earth the Chinese poets looking up at the moon the American poets gazing out at the pink and blue ribbons of sunrise Through simple language Collins shows that good poetry doesn't have to be obscure or incomprehensible qualities that are perhaps the real trouble with most serious poetry By now it should go without saying that what the oven is to the baker and the berry stained blouse to the drycleaner so the window is to the poet In this dazzling new collection his first in three years Collins explores boyhood jazz love the passage of time and of course writing themes familiar to Collins's fans but made new here Gorgeous funny and deeply empathetic Billy Collins's poetry is a window through which we see our lives as if for the first time
