The Politics Of Aesthetics Nationalism Gender R:

The Politics of Female Circumcision in Egypt Maria Frederika Malmström, 2016-03-22 The percentage of women aged 15-49 in Egypt who have undergone the procedure of female circumcision or genital mutilation cutting (FGM/C) stands at 91% according to the latest research carried out by UNICEF. Female circumcision has become a global political minefield with Western interventions affecting Egyptian politics and social development not least in the area of democracy and human rights. Maria Frederika Malmström employs an ethnographic approach to this controversial issue with the aim of understanding how female gender identity is continually created and re-created in Egypt through a number of daily practices and the central role which female circumcision plays in this process. Viewing the concept of agency as critical to the examination of social and cultural trends in the region, Malmström explores the lived experiences and social meanings of circumcision and femininity as narrated by women from Cairo. It is through the examination of the voices of these women that she offers an analysis of gender identity in Egypt and its impact on women's sexuality.

Theory After 'Theory' Jane Elliott, Derek Attridge, 2011-03-25 This volume argues that theory far from being dead has undergone major shifts in order to come to terms with the most urgent cultural and political questions of today. Offering an overview of theory's new directions, this groundbreaking collection includes essays on affect, biopolitics, biophilosophy, the aesthetic, and neoliberalism, as well as examinations of established areas such as subaltern studies, the postcolonial, and ethics. Influential figures such as Agamben, Badiou, Arendt, Deleuze, Derrida, and Meillassoux are examined in a range of contexts. Gathering together some of the top thinkers in the field, this volume not only speculates on the fate of theory but shows its current diversity, encouraging conversation between divergent strands. Each section places the essays in their contexts and stages a comparison between different but ultimately related ways in which key thinkers are moving beyond poststructuralism. Contributors: Amanda Anderson, Ray Brassier, Adriana Cavarero, Eva Cherniavsky, Rey Chow, Claire Colebrook, Laurent Dubreuil, Roberto Esposito, Simon Gikandi, Martin Haggel, and Peter Hallward, Brian Massumi, Peter Osborne, Elizabeth Povinelli, William Rasch, Henry Staten, Bernard Stiegler, Eugene Thacker, Cary Wolfe, Linda Zerilli.

Justice, Dissent, and the Sublime Mark Canuel, 2012-07 Read the Romantics from the perspective of both political theory and literary studies and consider justice through the lens of the sublime. In the past ten years, theorists from Elaine Scarry to Roger Scruton have devoted renewed attention to the aesthetic of beauty. Part of their discussions claim that beauty, because it arises from a sense of proportion, symmetry, or reciprocity, provides a model for justice. Justice, Dissent, and the Sublime makes a significant departure from this mode of thinking. Mark Canuel argues that the emphasis on beauty unwittingly reinforces in the name of justice the constraints of uniformity and conventionality. He calls for a more flexible and inclusive connection between aesthetics and justice, one founded on the Kantian concept of the sublime. The sublime captures the roles that asymmetry, complaint, and disagreement play in a complete understanding of a just society, a point the author maintains that was appreciated by a number of Romantic writers including Mary Shelley Canuel draws interesting connections between the debate about beauty and justice and issues in cosmopolitanism queer theory and animal studies Dying to be English Kelly

McGuire,2015-10-06 This study examines the presentation of suicide within the genre of the eighteenth century novel Referencing several key writers of the period McGuire demonstrates that their work inscribes a nationalist imperative to frame suicide as self sacrifice The sense of early modern writing Mark Robson,2018-09-30 In The sense of Early Modern writing Mark Robson pursues the relation between the concept of the early modern and modernity tracing the complex interactions of post Romantic philosophical aesthetics and early modern rhetoric and poetics The book therefore questions the status of what we now think of as literary texts in a period prior to the emergence of literature as a category In this way Robson argues for an attention to the classical notion of aisthesis that is for the crucial dimension of perception and response in reading and thinking and its rhetorical determination to be taken into account Robson s theoretically informed approach drawing in particular on the work of Jacques Derrida and Paul de Man fundamentally challenges the idea that critical theory is of little relevance in the reading of early modern texts The sense of Early Modern writing includes readings of both familiar and unfamiliar texts by Shakespeare Sidney Jonson Hester Pulter and others and considers topics such as ears eyes tongues hands and voices in order to ask How should we read early modern texts The book will therefore be of interest to all students and researchers in early modern or Renaissance studies as well as to those thinking through the theories and histories of literature aesthetics and rhetoric The Aesthetic Politics of Far-right Environmentalism Imogen Richards,2025-08-31 This book offers a groundbreaking exploration of the complex relationships between aesthetics politics and environmental concerns within far right movements Drawing on critical theory and insights from Walter Benjamin Jacques Ranci re and others it examines how both institutional far right political parties and extra institutional extremist actors manipulate environmental narratives to advance their distinct political agendas Its unique approach features a comparative analysis of far right individuals and organisations investigating how they use imagetic media to promote ethnonationalist and authoritarian responses to environmental degradation including the adverse effects of climate change Spanning recent historical and contemporary contexts the book provides a nuanced account of how eco fascist and other far right political ecologies are embedded within broader far right ideologies It critically analyses various dimensions of this alignment including the romanticisation of nature as national identity the instrumentalisation of ecological crises to justify authoritarian anti immigration and other forms of social control and the use of conservation rhetoric as a fa ade for nativist policies It offers a broad overview of how images and other visual media are used for propaganda This book will be of interest to policymakers scholar activists and practitioners A Handbook of Romanticism Studies Joel Faflak,Julia M.

Wright,2012-04-16 The Handbook to Romanticism Studies is an accessible and indispensable resource providing students and scholars with a rich array of historical and up to date critical and theoretical contexts for the study of Romanticism Focuses on British Romanticism while also addressing continental and transatlantic Romanticism and earlier periods Utilizes keywords such as imagination sublime poetics philosophy race historiography and visual culture as points of access to the study of Romanticism and the theoretical concerns and the culture of the period Explores topics central to Romanticism studies and the critical trends of the last thirty years Aesthetic Materialism Paul Gilmore,2009-01-01 Aesthetic Materialism Electricity and American Romanticism focuses on American romantic writers attempts to theorize aesthetic experience through the language of electricity In response to scientific and technological developments most notably the telegraph eighteenth and nineteenth century electrical imagery reflected the mysterious workings of the physical mind as well as the uncertain sometimes shocking connections between individuals Writers such as Whitman Melville and Douglass drew on images of electricity and telegraphy to describe literature both as the product of specific economic and social conditions and as a means of transcending the individual determined by such conditions Aesthetic Materialism moves between historical and cultural analysis and close textual reading challenging readers to see American literature as at once formal and historical and as a product of both aesthetic and material experience Historicizing Theory Peter C. Herman,2012-02-01 Historicizing Theory provides the first serious examination of contemporary theory in relation to the various twentieth century historical and political contexts out of which it emerged Theory a broad category that is often used to encompass theoretical approaches as varied as deconstruction New Historicism and postcolonialism has often been derided as a mere relic of the 1960s In order to move beyond such a simplistic assessment the essays in this volume examine such important figures as Harold Bloom Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Stephen Greenblatt and Edward Said situating their work in a variety of contexts inside and outside of the 1960s including World War II the Holocaust the Algerian civil war and the canon wars of the 1980s In bringing us face to face with the history of theory Historicizing Theory recuperates history for theory and asks us to confront some of the central issues and problems in literary studies today

The Creative Turn Anne M. Harris,2014-04-16 The conundrum of understanding practising and teaching contemporary creativity is that it wants to be all things to all people Almost all modern lists of creativity creative thinking and how to becoming creative books begin with one premise the creative individual artist is not special rather each of us is creative in a special way and these skills can and must be nurtured Increasingly industry and education leaders are claiming that creativity is the core skill to take us into a prosperous future signalling the democratisation of creativity as industry Yet centuries of association between aesthetics mastery and creativity are hard to dismantle These days it is increasingly difficult to discuss creativity without reference to business industry and innovation Why do we love to think of creativity in this way and no longer as that rare visitation of the muse or the elite gift of the few This book looks at the possibility that creativity is taking a turn what that turn might be and how it relates to industry education and ultimately cultural role of creativity and aesthetics for the 21st century In proliferating discourses of the commodification of creativity there is one thing all the experts agree on creativity is undefinable possibly unteachable largely unassessable and becoming the most valuable commodity in 21st century markets
