The Pluperfect Phantom:

The Pluperfect Phantom Olivia Diamond, 2001-06 Phantom Sentences Robert S. Kawashima, Gilles Philippe, Thelma Sowley, 2008 Ann Banfield professor in the Department of English at the University of California Berkeley is best known for her groundbreaking contributions to narrative theory Working within the paradigm of generative linguistics she argued that the language of fiction is characterized by two unspeakable sentences i e sentences that do not properly occur in the spoken language the sentence of pure narration and the sentence of represented speech and thought style indirect libre or erlebte Rede More recently Banfield offered a major reconsideration of the novels of Virginia Woolf and modernism in light of the philosophy of knowledge developed by G E Moore and Bertrand Russell and appropriated by Roger Fry in his critical analyses of impressionism and post impressionism The essays gathered here pay tribute to Banfield by addressing those disciplines and topics most closely related to her work including narrative theory and pragmatics the philosophy of language and knowledge generative syntax meter and phonology and modernism Phantom of Fact

Геннадий Барабтарло, 1989 The Phantom Limbs of the Rollow Sisters Timothy Schaffert, 2009-03-25 Renowned author Timothy Schaffert s celebrated debut novel reissued here in an entirely new paperback edition chronicles two sisters on the cusp of womanhood as they struggle to understand their father s suicide as well their mother s abandonment of them many years earlier On graduating from high school the sisters are once again set adrift this time by their grandmother who leaves them for Florida In order to survive and perhaps even thrive on their path to adulthood they must learn to reconcile their pasts and discover how to depend upon themselves as well as on each other In a story that rises out of the spare Nebraska landscape Schaffert delivers a redemptive tale about two young women searching for wholeness and love

Towards a 'Natural' Narratology Monika Fludernik, 2002-11 In this ground breaking work of synthesis Monika Fludernik combines insights from literary theory and linguistics to provide a challenging new theory of narrative This book is both an historical survey and theoretical study with the author drawing on an enormous range of examples from the earliest oral study to contemporary experimental fiction She uses these examples to prove that recent literature far from heralding the final collapse of narrative represents the epitome of a centuries long developmental process Cinema of Simulation: Hyperreal Hollywood in the Long 1990s Randy Laist, 2016-09-22 Hyperreality is an Alice in Wonderland dimension where copies have no originals simulation is more real than reality and living dreams undermine the barriers between imagination and objective experience The most prominent philosopher of the hyperreal Jean Baudrillard formulated his concept of hyperreality throughout the 1980s but it was not until the 1990s that the end of the Cold War along with the proliferation of new reality bending technologies made hyperreality seem to come true In the lost decade between the fall of the Berlin Wall and 9 11 the nature of reality itself became a source of uncertainty a psychic condition that has been recognizably recorded by that seismograph of American consciousness Hollywood cinema The auteur cinema of the 1970s aimed for gritty realism and the most prominent feature of Reagan era cinema was its fantastic unrealism Clinton era cinema however is characterized by a prevailing mood of hyperrealism communicated in various ways by such benchmark films as JFK Pulp Fiction and The Matrix The hyperreal cinema of the 1990s conceives of the movie screen as neither a window on a preexisting social reality realism nor as a wormhole into a fantastic dream dimension escapism but as an arena in which images and reality exchange masks blend into one another and challenge the philosophical premises which differentiate them from one another Cinema of Simulation Hyperreal Hollywood in the Long 1990s provides a guided tour through the anxieties and fantasies reciprocally social and cinematic which characterize the surreal territory of the hyperreal Creeping Flesh David Kerekes,2005 Taking its cue from the fanzines of yesteryear Creeping Flesh is an ongoing appreciation of horror fantasy and exploitation movies with a distinctive retro sensibility Volume two follows the success of the first one with another highly entertaining and informative mix of the classic and the obscure in exploitation movies and in classic television Reviews interviews and features on the rape revenge film cheerleader films of the 1970s Triad cinema Australian fantasy children s television fantasy archive television and much more The Odyssey of Homer Homer,1857 The Phantom Chapters of the Quijote Raymond Smith Willis,1953 unfinishing Brian Henderson,2022-04-15 they come flying out from under your expectations and once opened it is rain and thinking a sandbar always inventing a different script never where you left it This dream book of kaleidoscopic holographic mutagenic poems is haunted by the loops aporias and entanglements of time memory forgetting oblivion fortune telling eternal or not returns timelessness however that may manifest beginnings and endings if indeed there are such things and other spectral speculations where the intimate and the outward might exchange places With imagery both striking and nuanced and language rich and strange Brian Henderson encounters a hummingbird a barred owl a flood a trapdoor a table of contents an empty rowboat a nonexistent river a room made of crystal a heap of broken furniture ecocatastrophe and political debacle in mesmerizing poems that celebrate the strange and vertiginous musics of a kind of memory ness invoked by the irretrievable These poems ask how the future can exist in the now the now in the past What is a future How might we recognize one And although the now may be completely empty what are the selves we seem to become In the archeology of now unfinishing asks who we might have been and who we might yet be
