The Political Structure Of African States:

The Political Structure of African States Kwasi Sarfo, 1988 Politics and Government in African States Peter Duignan, Robert H. Jackson, 2022-08-01 Originally published in 1986 Politics and Government in African States 1960 1985 deals with the politics of sub Saharan African states since independence Each chapter considers the formal structure of government at the time of independence and traces the subsequent changes Each chapter also describes the development of the state machinery the civil service the parastatals defence and police forces party structure the political opposition and trade unions The economics of African states are dealt with insofar as they affect politics and government Political Topographies of the African State Catherine Boone, 2003-10-27 This study brings Africa into the mainstream of studies of state formation in agrarian societies Territorial integration is the challenge institutional linkages and political deals that bind center and periphery are the solutions In African countries rulers at the center are forced to bargain with regional elites to establish stable mechanisms of rule and taxation Variation in regional forms of social organization make for differences in the interests and political strength of regional leaders who seek to maintain or enhance their power vis a vis their followers and subjects and also vis a vis the center A Roadmap for Understanding African Politics Victor Oguejiofor Okafor, 2013-09-13 This book examines the impact of post colonial leadership on political integration in Nigeria offering an in depth understanding of the historical and contemporary forces that shape Nigeria s national politics as well as African politics generally Okafor discusses how Nigeria s pre colonial and colonial political histories along with contemporary external forces like neo colonialism as well as internal social economic and political structures and developments have affected emerging post independence politics in the country The study climaxes with an Africa centered theory of political and integrative leadership and then uses it as a prism for analyzing six Nigerian post independence political leaderships encompassing Nigeria s First and Second Republics along with their military interregna The concluding chapter includes a discussion of the implications of the study for leadership and political integration in Africa in general International Statebuilding in West Africa Abu Bakarr Bah, Nikolas Emmanuel, 2024-08-06 At the turn of the twenty first century manipulation of the democratic process coupled with preexisting political and economic grievances led to years long civil wars in Sierra Leone Liberia and C te d Ivoire During and after these conflicts international peacekeeping efforts and humanitarian intervention became the dominant paths for restoring stability by rebuilding the state Using these three countries as case studies this manuscript sheds light on internationally driven state building in war torn West African nations the problematic nature of the postcolonial state and the difficulties of securing its people s wellbeing Connecting peace and conflict democracy and international development studies Bah and Emmanuel argue that there is a clear nexus between the concepts and practices of peace building and statebuilding that peace building and statebuilding are not domestic matters alone but also matters of global intervention and that civil wars can be viewed as opportunities for state building through creative postwar partnerships and organization This study goes beyond the familiar concepts of failed states R2P peacekeeping and peace mediation and introduces and enhances the concepts of state decay new humanitarianism people centered liberalism and institutional design In doing so it provides critical lessons that local and international actors can draw on as they try to figure out practical solutions to the political economic and social problems that impede the development of peaceful and democratic multiethnic postcolonial states in Africa and beyond Applying comparative historical methods and theory to archival materials and expert interviews International Statebuilding in West Africa seeks to shift the discourse on civil wars from their causes and implications to the opportunities they provide to rework failed states and to shift the discourse on African states from their colonial and neocolonial legacies to their shared moral and security interests with the rest of the world

African Political Thought G. Martin, 2012-12-23 Focusing on individual political thinkers and beginning with indigenous African political thought the book successively examines African nationalism African socialism populism and Marxism Africanism and pan Africanism concluding with contemporary perspectives on democracy development and the African state

States and Power in Africa Jeffrey Herbst, 2014-12-21 Theories of international relations assumed to be universally applicable have failed to explain the creation of states in Africa There the interaction of power and space is dramatically different from what occurred in Europe In States and Power in Africa Jeffrey Herbst places the African state building process in a truly comparative perspective Herbst's bold contention that the conditions now facing African state builders existed long before European penetration of the continent is sure to provoke controversy for it runs counter to the prevailing assumption that colonialism changed everything This revised edition includes a new preface in which the author links the enormous changes that have taken place in Africa over the past fifteen years to long term state consolidation The final chapter on policy prescriptions has also been revised to reflect the evolution of African and international responses to state failure

A New Paradigm of the African State M. Muiu, G. Martin, 2009-01-05 Offers a historical multidisciplinary perspective on African political systems and institutions ranging from Antiquity Egypt Kush and Axum to the present with particular focus on their destruction through successive exogenous processes including the Atlantic slave trade imperialism colonialism and neo colonialism or globalization

Great Books Written by Africans across the Academic Disciplines Emmanuel D. Babatunde, Abdul Karim Bangura, 2022-07-04 This volume is the first text to provide a comprehensive account of the great books across the academic disciplines written by Africans born in the continent and those who became naturalized citizens of African countries These great books are those that have had a powerful important or affecting influence on the author of a chapter in this book as an individual and on society The books included here are mostly of the storytelling type and thus not representative of most of the academic disciplines This volume allows each contributor to write a chapter on a discipline showcasing five great books written by African authors Each selection is appraised and suggestions made by other experts in a discipline while every chapter entails an introduction to the topic a conceptual discussion of the discipline a book by book review of the five books and a conclusion and recommendations for research using the selected books Government and Rural Development in East Africa L. Cliffe, J.S. Coleman, M.R. Doornbos, 2012-12-06 The gestation period of this collection has been lengthy even by academic standards Some of our long suffering contributors prepared their original drafts for a workshop held in Nairobi in 1967 and although they have all updated their contributions they are still essentially reporting on research conducted in the late 1960s However we feel that their various findings and analyses of the issues they respectively treat have a continuing validity in our comprehension of the problem of rural development Other contributions reporting on more recent work have been incorporated at different times since most of them not commissioned especially for this symposium but all adding something to our understanding of the problem The slow accumulation of material which makes up this final collection parallels an evolution in our own collective thinking if indeed not that of most students of development over the past decade The progression has not been towards final clarification of the complex and changing East African realities nor towards formulation of an accepted model for their analysis rather it has been marked by the questioning of the initial somewhat simplistic assumptions with which some of us started out and a continuing debate and widening polarization of views about the significance of that process of government penetration of the rural areas which is our focus about the positive or negative value of development policies in East Africa and indeed about the appropriate theoretical approaches to the study of development in general
