Supervising Counsellors

Elizabeth Holloway, Michael Carroll

Supervising Counsellors:

Supervising Counsellors David King, Sue Wheeler, 2001-03-18 For many supervisors and supervisees the question of where responsibility lies with the client unsellor supervisor triad had not been adequately answered until now Supervising Counsellors sets out to do this by exploring the issues fully and drawing practical conclusions which will serve as a framework for good practice Supervising Counsellors is a practical and insightful guide to the responsibilities facing all those involved in supervising practitioners and trainees Drawing together contributions and new research from those at the forefront of supervisory practice this book makes essential reading for both qualified and trainee supervisors Part One defines the supervisor's clinical legal and ethical responsibilities and clearly sets out the law and professional codes relating to supervision Part Two examines issues that arise for supervisors working in different contexts organizations training primary care and some of the wider issues concerning supervision and highlights in particular the expectations of supervisees and the role of supervisors in ensuring that clients are not discriminated against

Supervising the Counsellor Steve Page, Val Wosket, 2013-03 Provides an excellent framework for organising the supervision process as well as clear guidance for those seeking competent supervision in counsellor training

Counselling Supervision in Context Michael Carroll, Elizabeth Holloway, 1998-12-28 The book is written in such a way as to challenge and educate through the use of exercises scenarios and activities Something it does rather well A well written practical and informative publication of value to supervisees supervisors and all those involved in counsellor and supervisor training

Counselling Psychology Review This book argues that the social context is important for the individual client supervisee and supervisor as is the context in which the work and supervision are done it is a clear well written and enjoyable book containing helpful information for both supervisees and supervisors

Transformations The PCSR Journal There is an increasing awareness of the impact of individual factors on therapeutic work both with clients and with their counsellors in supervision but the influence of social contexts on this work has been less clearly articulated This book provides counsellors with practical information about supervising specific types of clients and in specific organizational settings Part One addresses four essential aspects of the individual race gender disability and sexual orientation exploring their influence on the therapeutic relationship and the supervision of trainee and experienced counsellors Part Two assesses the impact of the organizations where counselling takes place how different kinds of settings affect work with clients and thus the work of supervision By highlighting context as a potential source of difficulty for the client the book encourages trainees and supervisors to look beyond the individual and avoid placing the burden of responsibility for problems upon the client

Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist Steve Page, Val

Wosket, 2014-07-17 Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist considers how to meet the supervision needs of trainee and experienced counsellors psychotherapists and other helping professionals using an integrative approach that will appeal to practitioners from a broad range of backgrounds and theoretical persuasions The book charts the development of the supervisor as he or she moves through making the transition from therapist to supervising the work of others and includes consideration of the advanced competencies required to supervise experienced practitioners This third edition brings a number of contemporary perspectives to a well known and widely respected core text for the training and development of supervisors The Cyclical Model at the heart of the book has established its relevance in the UK as one of the best known frameworks for teaching and learning the steps and stages of supervision All chapters in this new edition have been extensively revised and updated and key elements include Two brand new chapters on deepening supervision practice and moving beyond supervising counsellors and psychotherapists Updates on recent developments in supervision including research outcomes the use of technology and supervising short term work Creativity play and the use of metaphor and imagery in supervision Developing the use of self through relational supervision Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist is a key text for trainee and experienced supervisors of counsellors and psychotherapists those who train supervisors and supervisees wishing to better understand the supervisory process

Effective Supervision for

Counsellors Hazel Reid, Jane Westergaard, 2013-02-12 Supervision is an essential part of counselling training and ensuring you get the very best supervision is important to all students at all levels This book introduces both new and in training supervisors and counsellors to the concept of supervision and its purpose within counselling The focus is on key elements of supervision including methods processes skills and policy and the authors examine in depth the development of the supervision relationship Also explored are notions of creativity and flexibility in supervision as well as key concepts such as multi cultural and anti oppressive practice Full of practical activities that link theory to everyday practice this essential textbook will develop your skills as a counsellor in an interactive and engaging way Counselling and Psychotherapy Practice is a new series written specifically to support students on Counselling and Psychotherapy courses These books are practical in focus concentrate on linking theory to everyday practice and include practical activities to aid learning

Supervising

Counsellors Sue Wheeler, David King, 2001-03-09 Supervising Counsellors is a practical and insightful guide to the responsibilities facing all those involved in supervising practitioners and trainees Drawing together contributions and new research from those at the forefront of supervisory practice this book makes essential reading for both qualified and trainee supervisors Part One defines the supervisor's clinical legal and ethical responsibilities and clearly sets out the law and professional codes relating to supervision Part Two examines issues that arise for supervisors working in different contexts organizations training primary care and some of the wider issues concerning supervision and highlights in particular the expectations of supervisees and the role of supervisors in ensuring that clients are not discriminated against

Training and Supervision for Counselling in Action Windy Dryden, Brian Thorne, 1991-03-26 An excellent compilation Given the explosion in the demand for both counselling and supervision this book should be required reading for all those putting a toe in these complex waters However I think it is also a salutary guide for those already practised as trainers and supervisors I found the issues raised stimulated me to think again about my own practice and to profit from that exercise Counselling The Journal of the British Association for Counselling This accessible book explores the issues involved in both the training and supervision of counsellors and in the preparation of those who are to undertake supervisory and training roles The number of training courses is growing

Training Counselling Supervisors Elizabeth Holloway, Michael Carroll, 1999-05-28 Experienced supervisors would find it useful to read as a part of their continuous professional development Counselling at Work Highlighting the crucial themes intrinsic to the supervision process this volume offers a varied selection of methods for educating supervisors Experienced international trainers describe how they teach critical elements in the practice of supervision and outline their models for teaching in the context of their practice The book covers a wide range of topics including contracting reflective processes supervision in group and multicultural contexts and evaluation The text is organized to bring continuity across the elements addressed and to heighten awareness

Counselling Supervision in Organisations Sue Copeland, 2013-04-03 Counselling supervision is an expanding area as increasing numbers of counsellors enter the profession and require supervision on a regular basis Counselling Supervision in Organisations seeks to provide a model of counselling supervision within organisations enabling supervisors counsellors and their line managers to work effectively within organisational cultures for the benefit of all parties in the working alliance Drawing on her own research Sue Copeland explores both counselling and supervision cultures and their fit with various organisational cultures The dilemmas that often arise from a clash between differing cultural norms are discussed in relation to the supervisory process From securing a supervisory position contracting for the work reporting back to the organisation assessing the work and ending the relationship through to an in depth consideration of the supervisory work embedded in a good working relationship her model provides a blueprint for the supervisory process The model described in Counselling Supervision in Organisations brings together the cultures of counselling and supervision and their relation to organisational cultures It will provide a unique resource for counsellors trainee and professional counselling supervisors and their line managers
