Superworld II:

The Superworld III Antonino Zichichi, 2013-03-13 During August 1988 a group of 67 physicists from 45 laboratories in 17 countries met in Erice for the 26th Course of the International School of Subnuclear Physics. The countries represented were Australia, Austria, Canada, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Federal Republic of Germany, India, Italy, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom, and the United States of America. The School was sponsored by the European Physical Society, EPS, the Italian Ministry of Public Education, MPI, the Sicilian Regional Government, ERS, and the Weizmann Institute of Science. The interest in the Superworld is still very high. This is why for the third year the Erice School has been devoted to a great extent to review the many developments in Superstring, Supermembranes, with their problems of quantization and compactification. All these theoretical speculations are very far from the experimental frontier. In order to keep our feet on the ground, a series of lectures was included to cover the status of CP violation of the Heavy Leptons, together with the projects for new physics at Gran Sasso and Fermi Lab. For completeness, Julian Schwinger reviewed the great problem of Anomalies in Quantum Field Theory, and Shelly Glashow gave a closing lecture on the end of Superworld. If nothing new happens next year, there will be no Superworld in Erice.

New Physics Frontiers In The Lhc - 2 Era, The - Proceedings Of The 54th Course Of The International School Of Subnuclear Physics Antonino Zichichi, 2019-06-24 In June 2016 a group of 167 physicists from 31 countries have met in Erice to participate in the 54th Course of the International School of Subnuclear Physics. The main focus of this year's course has been the new frontiers of Physics in the LHC 2 Era and in all labs the world over as well as the new frontiers in related fields.

Experience and Possibility Joseph Mendola, 2021-01-11 Experience and Possibility concerns the modal ontology of experience. It investigates the detailed metaphysics of the colors, shapes, and other concrete properties present in our experience of ordinary concrete objects and also of their spatial and temporal relations. It examines their experienced particularity and the nature of their locations and material bits. This detailed concern with specific cases reveals many inadequacies of traditional ontology. But the central novelty of the book is an intense focus on the modal aspects of such experienced entities and what it reveals about modality in general. The reality of such things would involve in surprising ways not merely what would hence be actual but also what would be merely possible. This supports a general conception of modality of the possible and the necessary according to which the actual and the possible are locally entwined and involve different types of being. The particulars, properties, and relations we experience involve distinctive forms of modal structure characteristic of specific sorts of universals and irreducible particularities. When this experience is not veridical, when for instance the color we experience is somewhat misleading about reality, it is a puzzle how we have such experience nonetheless. Exploration of these forms of modal structure is groundwork for a new account of how our neurophysiology explains such misleading experience, how our physical structure delivers such qualia. This is sketched for the case of experienced color. Its core idea is that the apparent modal structure of things we experience is sometimes due to the actual modal structure of the neurophysiology that constitutes that experience The Superworld II Antonino Zichichi,1990 From Supersymmetry To The Origin Of Space-time - Proceedings Of The International School Of Subnuclear Physics Antonino Zichichi,1995-12-21 The theory of trees has its origin in the work of Lyndon on length functions in groups The first definition of an R tree was given by Tits in 1977 The importance of trees was established by Morgan and Shalen who showed how to compactify a generalisation of Teichmüller space for a finitely generated group using R trees In that work they were led to define the idea of a tree where is an arbitrary ordered abelian group Since then there has been much progress in understanding the structure of groups acting on R trees notably Rips theorem on free actions There has also been some progress for certain other ordered abelian groups including some interesting connections with model theory Introduction to Trees will prove to be useful for mathematicians and research students in algebra and topology Subnuclear Physics Antonino Zichichi,Ottavio Barnabei,Paolo Pupillo,Fabio A.
