The Plantation Boss:

The Plantation Boss Anne Hampson, 1972-01-01 The Plantation Dream David Charles Lewis, 1996 The Imperialist Imaginary John Eperjesi, 2014-04-01 In a groundbreaking work of New Americanist studies John R Eperjesi explores the cultural and economic formation of the United States relationship to China and the Pacific Rim in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Eperjesi examines a variety of texts to explore the emergence of what Rob Wilson has termed the American Pacific Eperjesi shows how works ranging from Frank Norris The Octopus to the Journal of the American Asiatic Association from the Socialist newspaper Appeal to Reason to the travel writings of Jack and Charmain London and from Maxine Hong Kingston's China Men to Ang Lee's Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon and the cultural dynamics that produced them helped construct the myth of the American Pacific By construing the Pacific Rim as a unified region binding together the territorial United States with the areas of Asia and the Pacific he also demonstrates that the logic of the imperialist imaginary suggested it was not only proper but even incumbent upon the United States to exercise both political and economic influence in the region As Donald E Pease notes in his foreword by reading foreign policy and economic policy as literature and by reconceptualizing works of American literature as extenuations of foreign policy and economic theory Eperjesi makes a significant contribution to studies of American imperialism Imagining Our Americas Sandhya Shukla, Heidi Tinsman, 2007-07-20 Challenges the disciplinary boundaries and the assumptions underlying the fields of Latin American Studies and American U S Studies demonstrating that the Americas is a concept that transcends geographical place This Land Is Ours Now Wendy Wolford, 2010-01-27 This on the ground account of a celebrated Brazilian agrarian movement highlights the contingent nature of social movements and political identities more broadly Remember My Sacrifice Elizabeth Davey, Rodney Clark, 2007-11-01 On the morning of July 27 1940 police arrested African American labor organizer Clinton Clark during a parishwide rally in Natchitoches Louisiana That day over 800 black farmers and plantation workers made their way to town to protest for fair payments for their crops and equal access to New Deal assistance programs Though those arrested with him were released after only three days Clinton remained in jail for three weeks without charges and faced a possible lynching News of Clark's captivity reached New Orleans labor organizers and spread to national civil liberties groups making him a public figure among civil rights organizations Recounting Clark's life in his own words Remember My Sacrifice is an exceptional first hand account of the lives of African Americans in rural Louisiana and of Clark's covert efforts to organize sharecroppers and farm workers during the Great Depression Born in 1903 Clark grew up in a sharecropping family in Pointe Coupee Parish Louisiana Like many of his counterparts Clark struggled to find work in the 1920s and in 1931 he moved to California with hopes of finding work Instead he was introduced to the Unemployed Benefits Council a Communist affiliated relief organization For Clark the organization's mission of collective action coupled with respect and relief for the unemployed was the ideal political expression for the frustration he felt within the southern economy Upon returning to Louisiana in 1933 Clark used his newfound confidence to organize sugar plantation workers and sharecroppers on his own often hiding out in the woods to escape the persecution of landowners and town officials Known as the Black Ghost of Louisiana Clinton Clark worked to connect rural Louisiana with a larger southern farmers union movement an effort that culminated in the formation of the Louisiana Farmers Union in 1937 Helping small farmers and farm workers most of whom were black take advantage of President Franklin Roosevelt s agricultural benefit programs and form goods cooperatives that served to break down the tenant farmers reliance upon plantation commissaries Clark assisted Louisiana farmers in their search for an equitable income In 1942 Clinton Clark penned his autobiography at night while working at a trucking company in New Orleans and shortly afterwards he fled Louisiana for New York City In the years that followed Clark faced the FBI s Communist surveillance though his memoir suggests that Clark never wholeheartedly endorsed communism he simply wanted equality With an introduction and thorough annotations by Elizabeth Davey and Rodney Clark Clinton Clark s nephew Clark s unique narrative illuminates the relationships between labor and civil rights groups and their important work organizing against racial discrimination in the years before the modern civil rights movement

Storm Riders Ed Gorman, Simply one of the best Western writers of our time Rocky Mountain News When a man lives by his reputation he has to pay the price The governor of New Mexico territory has a plan to end the range war in Furner County offer amnesty to all criminals involved U S Marshal Earle Conlon acting in place of the recently deceased sheriff is ordered to ride out to the Tunstall Ranch and sell the governor s plan to the most wanted man in the country Billy Pecos To Mae Roberts this plan is unacceptable She knows Billy is a stone cold killer Knows it firsthand She has quietly dedicated her life to seeing him dead by her bullet But when Billy is caught at the scene of a brutal murder Mae will have to wait in line Suddenly the whole town is thirsty for a lynching Marshal Conlon is the one man more interested in justice than revenge And only he will risk defending the despicable outlaw in order to find the true killer The storm clouds are gathering

Kalamazoo and Southwest Michigan Lee Griffin,2001-09-18 In Kalamazoo and Southwest Michigan Golden Memories author Lee Griffin illustrates the importance of cultivating the memories of generations past and looking positively toward the future as one grows older The book contains the voices of prominent community members who reside in Kalamazoo and the surrounding areas including Portage Richland Gull Lake Galesburg Augusta Hickory Corners Lawton Allegan and Marshall Their contributions to the regions growth are varied from a local mailman to a former college president These extraordinary citizens are representative of men and women everywhere and whose recollections span the globe Included in these extensive interviews are first hand accounts of the flu epidemic of 1912 and its effects on the Kalamazoo area vivid memories of an African American boy growing up on a plantation and the moving story of a mans emigration from China and his test of bravery as he made his way to Kalamazoo where he became a distinguished staff member of Kalamazoo College

Louisiana Manie Culbertson,1992 A textbook describing the geography of Louisiana and tracing the history of the state from early Indian settlements to the present day Community Health Centers Bonnie Lefkowitz, 2007-01-09 The aftermath of Hurricane Katrina has placed a national spotlight on the shameful state of healthcare for America's poor. In the face of this highly publicized disaster, public health experts are more concerned than ever about persistent disparities that result from income and race. This book tells the story of one groundbreaking approach to medicine that attacks the problem by focusing on the wellness of whole neighborhoods. Since their creation during the 1960s, community health centers have served the needs of the poor in the tenements of New York, the colonias of Texas, the working class neighborhoods of Boston, and the dirt farms of the South. As products of the civil rights movement, the early centers provided not only primary and preventive care but also social and environmental services, economic development, and empowerment. Bonnie Lefkowitz herself, a veteran of community health administration, explores the program's unlikely transformation from a small and beleaguered demonstration effort to a network of close to a thousand modern health care organizations serving nearly 15 million people. In a series of personal accounts and interviews with national leaders and dozens of health care workers, patients, and activists in five communities across the United States, she shows how health centers have endured despite cynicism and inertia, the vagaries of politics, and ongoing discrimination.
