Small Town Nurse

Alfred Worcester

Small Town Nurse:

A Small Town Nurse Viola Alfreda Smith Marsh, 1986 From Student to Nurse Ida Harper Simpson, Kurt W. Back, 1979-12-12 In this study of student nurses at Duke University Professor Simpson challenges earlier research by demonstrating that a professional school does socialise its students In addition by constructing a model that brings together competing theories of socialisation she finds that socialisation is not necessarily cumulative or unidirectional Conceptualisations that focus on individual students such as those emphasising role modelling student values or peer relations obscure the most significant conditions and processes The program of a school is the fundamental structure of occupational socialisation and this structure not its students should be blamed for failures and praised for success

Training schools for nurses in small cities Alfred Worcester, 1893 Small Town in Modern Times David Morton Rayside, 1991 Alexandria a town of about 3 500 people in Glengarry County in Eastern Ontario conforms in some respects to the stereotype of small towns as friendly communities without the strains of city life Although David Rayside found Alexandria to be a pleasant town in this penetrating study he reveals that this community which includes an almost equal mix of anglophones and francophones is also marked by social inequalities and divisions that parallel those in urban centres
