Smoke Signals From Eminence To Exile:

Children of Rus' Faith Hillis, 2013-11-27 In Children of Rus Faith Hillis recovers an all but forgotten chapter in the history of the tsarist empire and its southwestern borderlands The right bank or west side of the Dnieper River which today is located at the heart of the independent state of Ukraine was one of the Russian empire's last territorial acquisitions annexed only in the late eighteenth century Yet over the course of the long nineteenth century this newly acquired region nearly a thousand miles from Moscow and St Petersburg generated a powerful Russian nationalist movement Claiming to restore the ancient customs of the East Slavs the southwest's Russian nationalists sought to empower the ordinary Orthodox residents of the borderlands and to diminish the influence of their non Orthodox minorities Right bank Ukraine would seem unlikely terrain to nourish a Russian nationalist imagination It was among the empire's most diverse corners with few of its residents speaking Russian as their native language or identifying with the culture of the Great Russian interior Nevertheless as Hillis shows by the late nineteenth century Russian nationalists had established a strong foothold in the southwest's culture and educated society in the first decade of the twentieth they secured a leading role in local mass politics By 1910 with help from sympathetic officials in St Petersburg right bank activists expanded their sights beyond the borderlands hoping to spread their nationalizing agenda across the empire Exploring why and how the empire's southwestern borderlands produced its most organized and politically successful Russian nationalist movement Hillis puts forth a bold new interpretation of state society relations under tsarism as she reconstructs the role that a peripheral region played in attempting to define the essential characteristics of the Russian people and their state

A Jewish Woman of Distinction ChaeRan Y. Freeze, Zinaida Poliakov, 2019-12-20 Zinaida Poliakova 1863 1953 was the eldest daughter of Lazar Solomonovich Poliakov one of the three brothers known as the Russian Rothschilds They were moguls who dominated Russian finance and business and built almost a quarter of the railroad lines in Imperial Russia For more than seventy five years Poliakova kept detailed diaries of her world giving us a rare look into the exclusive world of Jewish elites in Moscow and St Petersburg These rare documents reveal how Jews successfully integrated into Russian aristocratic society through their intimate friendships and patronage of the arts and philanthropy And they did it all without converting in fact while staunchly demonstrating their Jewishness Poliakov's life was marked by her dual identity as a Russian and a Jew She cultivated aristocratic sensibilities and lived an extraordinarily lifestyle and yet she was limited by the confessional laws of the empire and religious laws that governed her household She brought her Russian tastes habits and sociability to France following her marriage to Reuben Gubbay the grandson of Sir Albert Abdullah Sassoon And she had to face the loss of almost all her family members and friends during the Holocaust Women's voices are often lost in the sweep of history and so A Jewish Women of Distinction is an exceptional much needed collection These newly discovered primary sources will change the way we understand the full breadth of the Russian Jewish experience
