Tempted To Love No 176:

Under temptation, by the author of 'Ursula's love story'. Gertrude Parsons, 1878 The Sunday School Union Hymn Book ... 176th Thousand John Peele CLAPHAM, 1875 A treatise of faith. Divided into two parts: the first shewing the nature, the second, the life of faith ... The third edition corrected and enlarged. [With a preface by Richard Sibbes.] John BALL (Puritan Divine.), 1657 The Witch's Temptation Rory McCauley-Hayman, 2021-06-01

Clover Harrison is a rare triple affinity witch. After refusing an arranged marriage from her family, she went to Oregon to run her great aunt's potion shop and teahouse. There's a fearsome beast that all seers see in her future, and Clover is driven to live her life to its fullest before she encounters the beast. Stanton Bruinwald is looking for his Ursa, the woman who will help him run his sleuth. Even though he's starting his search for her a year or two before most Alpha bears do, he feels the time is right. All he needs is some direction. Old friends and new come together in the third book of the Twisted Design Series.

The Inhuman Condition Rudi Visker, 2006-01-27

At the origin of this volume is a simple question: what to make of that surprisingly monotonous series of statements produced by our societies and our philosophers that all converge in one theme: the importance of difference. To clarify the meaning of the difference at stake here, we have tried to rephrase it in terms of the two major and mutually competing paradigms provided by the history of phenomenology, only to find both of them equally unable to accommodate this difference without violence. Neither the ethical nor the ontological approach can account for a subject that insists on playing a part of its own rather than following the script provided for it by either Being or the Good. What appears to be from a Heideggerian or Levinasian perspective an unwillingness to open up to what offers to deliver us from the condition of subjectivity is analysed in these pages as a structure in its own right. Far from being the wilful, indifferent and irresponsible being its critics have portrayed it to be, the so-called postmodern subject is essentially finite, not even able to assume the transcendence to which it owes its singularity. This inability is not a lack; it points instead to a certain unthought shared by both Heidegger and Levinas which sets the terms for a discussion no longer our own. Instead of blaming Heidegger for underdeveloping being, with we should rather stress that his account of mineness may be in the light of contemporary philosophy what stands most in need of revision. And instead of hailing Levinas as the critic whose stress on the alterity of the Other corrects Heidegger's existential solipsism, the problems into which Levinas runs in defining that alterity call for a different diagnosis and a corresponding change in the course that phenomenology has taken since. Instead of preoccupying itself with the invisible, we should focus on the structures of visibility that protect us from its terror. The result: An account of difference that is neither ontological nor ethical but in ontological and that can help us understand some of the problems our societies have come to face: racism, sexism, multiculturalism, pluralism. And in the wake of this, an unexpected defence of what is at stake in postmodernism and in the question it has refused to take lightly: who are we. Finally, an homage to Arendt and Lyotard who, if read through each other's lenses, give an exact articulation to the question with which our age struggles how to think the human condition once one realizes that there is an inhuman side to it which instead of being its mere negation turns out to be that without which it would come to lose its humanity A Treatise of Faith, diuided into two parts. The first shewing the nature, the second, the life of faith, etc. With a preface by Richard Sibbes John BALL (Puritan Divine.),1637 A Treatise of Faith John Ball,1657 Great Thoughts from Master Minds ,1894

'What May Words Say . . . ?' Inge Leimberg, 2011-02-24 What May Words Say A Reading of The Merchant of Venice contains in a form resembling a running commentary a comprehensive and in many respects unconventional interpretation of The Merchant of Venice The play's development of ideas is unfolded in a literary analysis that focuses on the poet's words in their philological historical and philosophical contexts What the words say is that the play is dominated by the three Delphic maxims Know thyself Nothing too much and Give surety and harm is at hand Within the intellectual and ethical compass of these tenets the two stranded action of the play is developed and the question why Shakespeare added the story of the caskets to the story of the bond is answered by the words law and choice which are as closely connected semantically as the two stories are interrelated in the dramatic structure The self knowledge achieved in the musical cadence of the play is everyone's seeing God's image in the other person and the law finally chosen is forgiveness
