Caruso, 2012-03-11 When the Sisters Said Farewell tells an important story of the contributions of Catholic elementary schools to the United States by chronicling the experiences and insights of religious women nuns who were the last members of their communities to serve in parish elementary schools and of those lay men and women who were the first to serve in those roles traditionally filled by the sisters The dramatic numerical transition from the preponderance of religious women to lay leadership from the 1960s to the 1980s has been documented this book describes the how and why sisters left Catholic schools This narrative also provides instructive insights about leadership transitions and current trends in religious life and Catholic education As all educators in Catholic private and public schools grapple with questions of delivering an excellent education this book offers a glimpse into the workings of one of the most amazing educational enterprises in the history of the United States Listen to a Sirius Radio interview with Fr Michael P Carus here To Bind Up the Wounds Mary Denis

Maher, 1999-11-01 The contributions of more than six hundred Catholic nuns to the care of Confederate and Union sick and wounded made a critical impact upon nineteenth century America Not only did thousands of soldiers directly benefit from the religious sisters ministrations but both professional nursing and Catholics acceptance within mainstream society advanced significantly as a result In To Bind Up the Wounds Sister Mary Denis Maher writes this heretofore neglected Civil War chapter in rich detail telling a riveting story shot with suspicion and prejudice suffering and self sacrifice ingenuity beneficence and gratitude Clinical Reports on Continued Fever Austin Flint, 1855 Clinical reports on continued
