Madsen, 1979 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for Caxton Press Two hundred years ago Meriwether Lewis led the Corps of Discovery across the Continental Divide and down into the Salmon River country of what is now Idaho There in a mountain meadow the explorers met the Mountain Lemhi Shoshoni The Lemhi's aid to Lewis and Clark helped the Corps of Discovery reach their destination and sealed the fate of the Lemhi people      Sacajawea's People John W. W. Mann, 2004-12-01 On October 20 2001 a crowd gathered just east of Salmon Idaho to dedicate the site of the Sacajawea Interpretive Cultural and Education Center in preparation for the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial In a bitter instance of irony the American Indian peoples conducting the ceremony dedicating the land to the tribe the city of Salmon and the nation the Lemhi Shoshones Sacajawea's own people had been removed from their homeland nearly a hundred years earlier and had yet to regain official federal recognition as a tribe John W W Mann's book at long last tells the remarkable and inspiring story of the Lemhi Shoshones from their distant beginning to their present struggles Mann offers an absorbing and richly detailed look at the life of Sacajawea's people before their first contact with non Natives their encounter with the Lewis and Clark Expedition in the early nineteenth century and their subsequent confinement to a reservation in northern Idaho near the town of Salmon He follows the Lemhis from the liquidation of their reservation in 1907 to their forced union with the Shoshone Bannock tribes of the Fort Hall Reservation to the south He describes how for the past century surrounded by more populous and powerful Native tribes the Lemhis have fought to preserve their political economic and cultural integrity His compelling and informative account should help to bring Sacajawea's people out of the long shadow of history and restore them to their rightful place in the American story      Lemhi County Hope Benedict, Lemhi County Historical Society and Museum, 2006 Situated at the base of the Continental Divide and surrounded by the Lemhi and Salmon River Ranges Lemhi County Idaho provides a fascinating look at the Old West as it makes its precarious transition to a new order Traditional homeland to the people of Sacajawea Lemhi County became a destination point for Lewis and Clark as they worked their way across the continent for trappers for missionaries and finally in 1866 for prospectors and those who kept them fed clothed and entertained The community that developed in the valleys of the Salmon Lemhi and Pahsimeroi Rivers benefited from long term mining and the simultaneous evolution of ranching and the timber industry and this growth was well documented by local photographers Situated at the base of the Continental Divide and surrounded by the Lemhi and Salmon River Ranges Lemhi County Idaho provides a fascinating look at the Old West as it makes its precarious transition to a new order Traditional homeland to the people of Sacajawea Lemhi County became a destination point for Lewis and Clark as they worked their way across the continent for trappers for missionaries and finally in 1866 for prospectors and those who
