Literature and Race in Los Angeles Julian Murphet,2001-03-19 Los Angeles is both the most fragmented and the most minoritized metropolis in America and its most luridly abstract and aestheticized city With more than eighty five languages being spoken in its classrooms and one homogeneous visual language emanating from its entertainment industry LA radically challenges the prospects of that archaic representational medium literature In its investigation of the work of Bret Easton Ellis James Ellroy Anna Deveare Smith and others Literature and Race in Los Angeles articulates their aesthetic preoccupations with the structures of social space in the city Harnessing some of the theoretical insights of Henri Lefebvre and the LA school of geographers Murphet demonstrates the versatility of literary production in LA and speculates about the fortunes of literature in a predominantly visual culture

Working for Justice Milkman Ruth,Joshua Bloom,Victor Narro,2013-09-30 Working for Justice which includes eleven case studies of recent low wage worker organizing campaigns in Los Angeles makes the case for a distinctive L A Model of union and worker center organizing Networks linking advocates in worker centers and labor unions facilitate mutual learning and synergy and have generated a shared repertoire of economic justice strategies The organized labor movement in Los Angeles has weathered the effects of deindustrialization and deregulation better than unions in other parts of the United States and this has helped to anchor the city's wider low wage worker movement. Los Angeles is also home to the nation's highest concentration of undocumented immigrants making it especially fertile territory for low wage worker organizing. The case studies in Working for Justice are all based on original field research on organizing campaigns among L.A. day laborers, garment workers, car wash workers, security officers, janitors, taxi drivers, hotel workers, as well as the efforts of ethnically focused worker centers and immigrant rights organizations. The authors interviewed key organizers, gained access to primary documents and conducted participant observation. Working for Justice is a valuable resource for sociologists and other scholars in the interdisciplinary field of labor studies as well as for advocates and policymakers. The City Allen J. Scott, Edward W. Soja, 1996. Los Angeles has grown from a scattered collection of towns and villages to one of the largest megacities in the world. The editors of THE CITY have assembled a variety of essays examining the built environment and human dynamics of this extraordinary modern city, emphasizing the dramatic changes that have occurred since 1960. 58 illustrations. Landscapes of Desire William Alexander McClung, 2002-05-31. An imaginative and provocative interpretation of the meaning of Los Angeles, carefully thought out and beautifully written. Robert Winter, editor of Toward a Simpler Way of Life: The Arts and Crafts Architects of California. McClung's sharp eye and his ability to be both critic and analyst combine to make this a book of real timeliness. It is unusual and it is smart. William Deverell, author of Railroad Crossing: Californians and the Railroad 1850-1910.
