The French Army And Politics 1870-1871:

Achievements of Cavalry Sir Evelyn Wood, 1897 Journals of Field-Marshal Count Von Blumenthal for 1866 and 1870-1871 Field-Marshal Graf Leonhard Von Blumenthal, 2015-11-06 Includes the Franco Prussian Map Pack with over 35 maps plans and diagrams of the engagements of the war Graf Leonhard Von Blumenthal 1810-1900 was a Prussian General Field Marshal of forthright and upstanding principles who became a legendary figure in the German army during the Austro Prussian and Franco Prussian wars After numerous staff and regimental appointments Von Blumenthal was assigned to be the Chief of the General Staff to the Crown Prince of Prussia commanding the 2nd army for the Austro Prussian war in 1866 The post of Chief of the General Staff was intended to be that of a highly competent adviser to the royal titular commander of the army and with it came great power of decision It was upon the 2nd army that the brunt of the fighting fell during the short but brutal war and its arrival at the battle of Koeniggratz saved the day Von Blumenthal's own part in the entire campaign and particularly on the battlefield of Koeniggratz was most conspicuous the grateful Crown Prince said to him I know to whom I owe the conduct of my army The successful team of Crown Prince and Chief of the General Staff was revived for the struggle with the French during the Franco Prussian war in 1870 Once again his service was nothing less than brilliant particularly whilst herding the French Army into the bottleneck trap at Sedan Bismarck himself said So far as one can see the papers make no mention of him although he is chief of the staff to the Crown Prince and next after Moltke deserves most credit for the conduct of the war He won the battles of Wörth and Wissembourg and after that of Sedan as the Crown Prince was not always interfering with his plans These fascinating journals are an undiscovered gem of military writing and a particularly interesting sidelight on two often forgotten wars that still shape Europe today The Second Empire and the Press N. Isser, 2012-12-06 Public opinion had roots in the nineteenth century with the development of industrialization What is this public It is the mass of individuals who comprise a society or a nation this mass in turn is divided into many groups which have their own interests prejudices and beliefs A government whether democratic or not is well aware of the power of public opinion and is anxious to measure and shape it All three branches of government may direct and educate public thinking using the instruments of propaganda Propaganda is any idea and action designed to influence the views and actions of others Today's means of propaganda are books newspapers radio movies television public schools and lastly the rostrum Molders of opinion believe that words sounds and pictures accomplish little unless they are carefully organized and integrated into a well conceived plan Once this is accomplished the ideas conveyed by the words will become part of the people themselves Special techniques such as the employment of fear and the play on prejudices have been used quite successfully by modern states to impose their own dogmas and policies Because the social scientist has been aware of the study of public opinion he may have concluded that it was a modern innovation but governments have always been concerned with public opinion though not always understanding it and have attempted to influence it The age we
