The French Fictional Journal:

The French Fictional Journal Valerie Raoul, 1980 Unlike other forms of fictional first person narrative such as the memoir or epistolary novel the French fictional journal or diary novel has received inadequate critical attention This is the first full length analysis devoted to its particular features Valerie Raoul bases her study on the premise that the interest of the fictional journal lies in its subjugation of one set of conventions those of the diary to another set those of the novel and the interference of each of those codes in the function of the other In this context she discusses more than fifty novels or short stories wholly or partly in diary form and written in France between 1800 and the present In the first part of the book she deals with the fictivity of the diary novel Philippe Lejeune's work on the functioning of autobiography serves as a point of comparison to elucidate the distinctive reading pact involved in this aspect of first person fiction The second part analyses the internal communication model on this intradiegetic level the fictional diarist is narrator actor and narratee In the third part an abstract model is developed to illustrate the functioning of the fictional journal as a bi textual form of communication in which the internal communications process is a mise en abyme of the external one between author character and reader The personal narcissism of the intimiste is seen to give way in the fictional journal intime to narcissistic fiction since diary novels are always the narration of the production of a recit This book is an important investigation into the very nature of fiction and the meaning of the activity of writing It not only fills an important gap in the appreciation of French prose but also adds to the comprehension of personal narrative in particular and narrative discourse in general

Diaries Real and Fictional in Twentieth-Century French Writing Sam Ferguson, 2018-03-16 This volume is the first study of the diary in French writing across the twentieth century as a genre which includes both fictional and non fictional works From the 1880s it became apparent to writers in France that their diaries a supposedly private form of writing would probably come to be published strongly affecting the way their readers viewed their other published works and their very persona as an author More than any other Andr Gide embraced the literary potential of the diary the first part of this book follows his experimentation with the diary in the fictional works Les Cahiers d'Andr Walter 1891 and Paludes 1895 in his diary of the composition of his great novel Le Journal des faux monnayeurs 1926 and in his monumental Journal 1889 1939 1939 The second part follows developments in diary writing after the Second World War inflected by radical changes in attitudes towards the writing subject Raymond Queneau's works published under the pseudonym of Sally Mara 1947 1962 used the diary playfully at a time when the writing subject was condemned by the literary avant garde Roland Barthes's experiments with the diary 1977 1979 took it to the extremes of its formal possibilities at the point of a return of the writing subject Annie Ernaux's published diaries 1993 2011 demonstrate the role of the diary in the modern field of life writing Throughout the century the diary has repeatedly been used to construct an oeuvre and author but also to call these fundamental literary concepts into question

BOOK JACKET The French Novel: Theory and Practice Michael Butor, 2024-10-07 Ordinary Writings, Personal Narratives Martyn Lyons, 2007 Historians have often assumed that the lives of the poor and illiterate can never be known because they have left little record of their existence This book however will establish some of the main themes of a new field of historical study that of ordinary writings the improvised writings of the poor and the young The Small Details of Life Kathryn Carter, 2002-01-01 The diaries of twenty different women from various points in Canadian history covering 160 years from 1830 to 1996 Each diary is a snapshot into a different time period Includes short biographies on each woman 2002 The Craft of Fiction David Letzler, 2017-06 A 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title What is the strange appeal of big books The mega novel a genre of erudite tomes with encyclopedic scope has attracted wildly varied responses from fanatical devotion to trenchant criticism Looking at intimidating mega novel masterpieces from The Making of Americans to 2666 David Letzler explores reader responses to all the seemingly random irrelevant pointless and derailing elements that comprise these mega novels elements that he labels craft after the computer science term for junk code In The Craft of Fiction Letzler suggests that these books are useful tools to help us understand the relationship between reading and attention While mega novel text is often intricately meaningful or experimental sometimes it is just excessive and pointless On the other hand mega novels also contain text that though appearing to be craft turns out to be quite important Letzler posits that this craft requires readers to develop a sophisticated method of attentional modulation allowing one to subtly distinguish between text requiring focused attention and text that must be skimmed or even skipped to avoid processing failures The Craft of Fiction shows how the attentional maturation prompted by reading mega novels can help manage the information overload that increasingly characterizes contemporary life Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2001 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2009 Form and Function in the Diary Novel Trevor Field, 1989-06-18 A study of novels written in the form of diaries Some 75 fictional diarists are followed with examples ranging from light hearted works to those of Nobel prize winners like Sartre and Golding which the author uses to illustrate the versatility of this literary form
