The Fur Trade Of The American West 1807 1840 A Geographical Synthesis:

The Fur Trade of the American West, 1807-1840 David J. Wishart, 1979 Traces the trans Mississippi fur trade system from the Green River rendezvous or the Fort Union post to the trading houses of St Louis and the auctions in New York and Europe Such factors as capital formation shifting commercial institutions the role of advanced market information and the nature kinds costs and speed of transportation are highlighted as well as the relationship of the whole fur trade to national and international business cycles

No Duty to Retreat Richard Maxwell Brown, 1994 In 1865 Wild Bill Hickok killed Dave Tutt in a Missouri public square in the West's first notable walkdown One hundred and twenty nine years later Bernard Goetz shot four threatening young men in a New York subway car Apart from gunfire what do the two events have in common Goetz writes Richard Maxwell Brown was acquitted of wrongdoing in the spirit of a uniquely American view of self defense a view forged in frontier gunfights like Hickok's When faced with a deadly threat we have the right to stand our ground and fight We have no duty to retreat

The Making of the American Landscape Michael P. Conzen, 2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent's physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today

The Great Medicine Road, Part 1 Will Bagley, 2014 Between 1841 and 1866 more than 500 000 people followed trails to Oregon California and the Salt Lake Valley in one of the greatest mass migrations in American history This collection of travelers accounts of their journeys in the 1840s the first volume in a new series of trail narratives comprises excerpts from pioneer and missionary letters diaries journals and memoirs many previously unpublished accompanied by biographical information and historical background

Rotting Face R. G. Robertson, 2001 The smallpox epidemic of 1837 1838 forever changed the tribes of the Northern Plains a Before it ran out of human fuel the disease claimed 20 000 souls a R G Robertson tells the story of this deadly virus with modern implications

Wild New World Dan Flores, 2022-10-25 Winner of the 2023 Rachel Carson Environment Book Award Winner of the 2023 National Outdoor Book Award for Natural History Literature Shortlisted for the 2023 Phi Beta Kappa Society Ralph Waldo Emerson Award A Kirkus Reviews Best Nonfiction Book of 2022 A deep time history of animals and humans in North America by the best selling and award winning author of Coyote America In 1908 near Folsom New Mexico a cowboy discovered the remains of a herd of extinct giant bison By examining flint points embedded in the bones archeologists later determined that a band of humans had killed and butchered the animals 12 450 years ago This discovery vastly expanded America's known human history but also revealed the long standing danger Homo

sapiens presented to the continent's evolutionary richness Distinguished author Dan Flores's ambitious history chronicles the epoch in which humans and animals have coexisted in the wild new world of North America a place shaped both by its own grand evolutionary forces and by momentous arrivals from Asia Africa and Europe With portraits of iconic creatures such as mammoths horses wolves and bison Flores describes the evolution and historical ecology of North America like never before The arrival of humans precipitated an extraordinary disruption of this teeming environment Flores treats humans not as a species apart but as a new animal entering two continents that had never seen our likes before He shows how our long past as carnivorous hunters helped us settle America initially establishing a coast to coast culture that lasted longer than the present United States But humanity's success had devastating consequences for other creatures In telling this epic story Flores traces the origins of today's Sixth Extinction to the spread of humans around the world tracks the story of a hundred centuries of Native America explains how Old World ideologies precipitated 400 years of market driven slaughter that devastated so many ancient American species and explores the decline and miraculous recovery of species in recent decades In thrilling narrative style informed by genomic science evolutionary biology and environmental history Flores celebrates the astonishing bestiary that arose on our continent and introduces the complex human cultures and individuals who hastened its eradication studied America's animals and moved heaven and earth to rescue them Eons in scope and continental in scale

Wild New World is a sweeping yet intimate Big History of the animal human story in America Metis and the Medicine

Line Michel Hogue, 2015-04-06 Born of encounters between Indigenous women and Euro American men in the first decades of the nineteenth century the Plains Metis people occupied contentious geographic and cultural spaces Living in a disputed area of the northern Plains inhabited by various Indigenous nations and claimed by both the United States and Great Britain the Metis emerged as a people with distinctive styles of speech dress and religious practice and occupational identities forged in the intense rivalries of the fur and provisions trade Michel Hogue explores how as fur trade societies waned and as state officials looked to establish clear lines separating the United States from Canada and Indians from non Indians these communities of mixed Indigenous and European ancestry were profoundly affected by the efforts of nation states to divide and absorb the North American West Grounded in extensive research in U S and Canadian archives Hogue's account recenters historical discussions that have typically been confined within national boundaries and illuminates how Plains Indigenous peoples like the Metis were at the center of both the unexpected accommodations and the hidden history of violence that made the world's longest undefended border Beneath the Backbone of the World Ryan Hall, 2020-03-19

For the better part of two centuries between 1720 and 1877 the Blackfoot Niitsitapi people controlled a vast region of what is now the U S and Canadian Great Plains As one of the most expansive and powerful Indigenous groups on the continent they dominated the northern imperial borderlands of North America The Blackfoot maintained their control even as their homeland became the site of intense competition between white fur traders frequent warfare between Indigenous nations and profound ecological transformation In an era of violent and wrenching change Blackfoot people relied on their mastery of their homelands unique geography to maintain their way of life With extensive archival research from both the United States and Canada Ryan Hall shows for the first time how the Blackfoot used their borderlands position to create one of North America s most vibrant and lasting Indigenous homelands This book sheds light on a phase of Native and settler relations that is often elided in conventional interpretations of Western history and demonstrates how the Blackfoot exercised significant power resiliency and persistence in the face of colonial change Common and Contested Ground Theodore Binnema,2004-01-01 In Common and Contested Ground Theodore Binnema provides a sweeping and innovative interpretation of the history of the northwestern plains and its peoples from prehistoric times to the Lewis and Clark Expedition The real history of the northwestern plains between a d 200 and 1806 was far more complex nuanced and paradoxical than often imagined Drawn by vast herds of buffalo and abundant resources Native peoples fur traders and settlers moved across the region establishing intricate patterns of trade diplomacy and warfare In the process the northwestern plains became a common and contested ground Drawing on a wide range of sources Binnema examines the impact of technology on the peoples of the plains beginning with the bow and arrow and continuing through the arrival of the horse European weapons Old World diseases and Euroamerican traders His focus on the environment and its effect on patterns of behaviour and settlement brings a unique perspective to the history of the region
