The Future of News Philip S. Cook, Douglas Gomery, Lawrence Wilson Lichty, 1992 Analyzing these and other trends The Future of News offers a thoughtful and provocative preview of the media's role in the twenty first century The Future of News Philip S. Cook, Douglas Gomery, Lawrence W. Lichty, 1992-04 Analyzing these and other trends The Future of News offers a thoughtful and provocative preview of the media's role in the coming century Play-by-Play Ronald A. Smith, 2003-05-22 Noted sports historian writes on the relationship of the media to college athletics Chosen as an Outstanding Academic Title for 2003 by Choice Magazine The phenomenal popularity of college athletics owes as much to media coverage of games as it does to drum beating alumni and frantic undergraduates Play by play broadcasts of big college games began in the 1920s via radio a medium that left much to the listener's imagination and stoked interest in college football After World War II the rise of television brought with it network NCAA deals that reeked of money and fostered bitter jealousies between have and have not institutions In Play by Play Radio Television and Big Time College Sport noted author and sports insider Ronald A Smith examines the troubled relationship between higher education and the broadcasting industry the effects of TV revenue on college athletics notably football and the odds of achieving meaningful reform Beginning with the early days of radio Smith describes the first bowl game broadcasts the media image of Notre Dame and coach Knute Rockne and the threat broadcasting seemed to pose to college football attendance He explores the beginnings of television the growth of networks the NCAA decision to control football telecasts the place of advertising the role of TV announcers and the threat of NCAA Robin Hoods and the College Football Association to NCAA television control Taking readers behind the scenes he explains the culture of the college athletic department and reveals the many ways in which broadcasting dollars make friends in the right places Play by Play is an eye opening look at the political infighting invariably produced by the deadly combination of university administrators athletic czars and huge revenue Soft News Goes to War Matthew A. Baum, 2011-10-16 The American public has consistently declared itself less concerned with foreign affairs in the post Cold War era even after 9 11 than at any time since World War II How can it be then that public attentiveness to U S foreign policy crises has increased This book represents the first systematic attempt to explain this apparent paradox Matthew Baum argues that the answer lies in changes to television's presentation of political information In so doing he develops a compelling byproduct theory of information consumption The information revolution has fundamentally changed the way the mass media especially television covers foreign policy Traditional news has been repackaged into numerous entertainment oriented news programs and talk shows By transforming political issues involving scandal or violence especially attacks against America into entertainment the soft news media have actually captured more viewers who will now follow news about foreign crises due to its entertainment value even if they remain uninterested in foreign policy Baum rigorously tests his theory through content analyses of traditional and soft news media coverage of various post WWII U S foreign crises and statistical analyses of public opinion surveys The results hold key implications for the future of American politics and foreign policy For instance watching soft news reinforces isolationism among many inattentive Americans Scholars political analysts and even politicians have tended to ignore the soft news media and politically disengaged citizens But as this well written book cogently demonstrates soft news viewers represent a largely untapped reservoir of unusually persuadable voters

Green Illusions Ozzie Zehner, 2012 We don't have an energy crisis We have a consumption crisis And this book which takes aim at cherished assumptions regarding energy offers refreshingly straight talk about what's wrong with the way we think and talk about the problem Though we generally believe we can solve environmental problems with more energy more solar cells wind turbines and biofuels alternative technologies come with their own side effects and limitations How for instance do solar cells cause harm Why can't engineers solve wind power's biggest obstacle Why won't contraception solve the problem of overpopulation lying at the heart of our concerns about energy and what will This practical environmentally informed and lucid book persuasively argues for a change of perspective If consumption is the problem as Ozzie Zehner suggests then we need to shift our focus from suspect alternative energies to improving social and political fundamentals walkable communities improved consumption enlightened governance and most notably women's rights The dozens of first steps he offers are surprisingly straightforward For instance he introduces a simple sticker that promises a greater impact than all of the nation's solar cells He uncovers why carbon taxes won't solve our energy challenges and presents two taxes that could Finally he explores how future environmentalists will focus on similarly fresh alternatives that are affordable clean and can actually improve our well being Watch a book trailer Uncertain Guardians Bartholomew H. Sparrow, 1999-05-04 The news media are often seen as a fourth branch of government serving as a check on the other three This text argues that this is a mistaken notion the media's decisions affect the government's policy making as well as the processes and outcomes of the political system
