The Future of the Sociological Classics Buford Rhea,1981      The Future of the Sociological Classics (RLE Social Theory)
Buford Rhea,2020-07-26 In this important volume of specially commissioned essays nine leading sociologists present their answers to the question What use are the sociological classics today They report on the latest scholarship on neglected features of the various masters on promising applications and unrecognised implications      Becoming Mead Daniel R. Huebner,2014-10-10 George Herbert Mead is a foundational figure in sociology best known for his book Mind Self and Society which was put together after his death from course notes taken by stenographers and students and from unpublished manuscripts Mead however never taught a course primarily housed in a sociology department and he wrote about a wide variety of topics far outside of the concerns for which he is predominantly remembered including experimental and comparative psychology the history of science and relativity theory In short he is known in a discipline in which he did not teach for a book he did not write In Becoming Mead Daniel R Huebner traces the ways in which knowledge has been produced by and about the famed American philosopher Instead of treating Mead s problematic reputation as a separate topic of study from his intellectual biography Huebner considers both biography and reputation as social processes of knowledge production He uses Mead as a case study and provides fresh new answers to critical questions in the social sciences such as how authors come to be considered canonical in particular disciplines how academics understand and use others works in their research and how claims to authority and knowledge are made in scholarship Becoming Mead provides a novel take on the history of sociology placing it in critical dialogue with cultural sociology and the sociology of knowledge and intellectuals      Georg Simmel and Contemporary Sociology M.
