Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Lucy Evans,2024-09-18 Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Reframing Crime and Justice is the first academic book to focus on crime fiction by anglophone Caribbean writers It explores how contemporary writers experiment with the crime genre in order to convey contextualize and comment on crime and justice in Caribbean countries Lucy Evans reads crime fiction as a versatile mode of writing that can be politically engaged and that in a Caribbean context can expose power structures embedded in the region's multi-layered history of colonial conquest, genocide of Indigenous populations, plantation agriculture, transatlantic slavery and indentured labour. This book covers fiction set in Trinidad and Tobago, Jamaica, Guyana, Barbados, Grenada and Haiti, discussing novels by Elizabeth Nunez, Jacob Ross, Marlon James, Harischandra Khemraj, Esther Figueroa, Edwidge Danticat, Cherie Jones and several others. Evans considers how fiction by Anglophone Caribbean writers not only reflects upon the social realities of crime and crime control in the Caribbean but also at times contests or complicates scholarly, popular and legal perspectives. She argues that through their engagement with the crime genre, these writers raise pressing questions about what constitutes crime and justice in a Caribbean context and about accountability. Looking beyond the traditional focus of crime fiction and criminology on individual acts of wrongdoing, their fiction highlights systemic social harms rooted in the region's colonial past. Reading crime fiction through the lens of criminological research, Crime Fiction in the Caribbean brings the study of literary writing into scholarly debate on crime in the Caribbean. At the same time, it extends the global turn in crime fiction studies, focusing on a region that has been sidelined even in studies which examine the genre's international dimensions. Encyclopedia of Italian Crime Fiction in the Era of the Anti-Mafia Movement William Farina, 2020-03-03. Over the last three decades, Italian crime fiction has demonstrated a trend toward a much higher level of realism and complexity. The origins of the New Italian Epic, as it has been coined by some of its proponents, can be found in the widespread backlash against the Mafia-sponsored murders of Sicilian magistrates which culminated with the assassinations of Judges Giovanni Falcone and Paolo Borsellino in 1992. Though beginning in the Italian language, this prolific popular movement has more recently found its way into the English language and hence it has found a much wider international audience. Following a brief yet detailed history of the cultural and economic development of Sicily, this book provides a multilayered look into the evolution of the New Italian Epic genre. The works of ten prominent contemporary writers, including Andrea Camilleri, Michael Dibdin, Elena Ferrante and Massimo Carlotto, are examined against the backdrop of various historical periods. This past is prologue: approach to contemporary crime fiction provides context for the creation of these recent novels and enhances understanding of the complex moral ambiguity that is characteristic of anti-Mafia Italian crime fiction.
