The Freud/Jung Letters Sigmund Freud, 1976 The Freud/Jung Letters Sigmund Freud, 1994 The Freud-Jung Letters Sigmund Freud, C. G. Jung, 1975-12-21 In April 1906 Sigmund Freud wrote a brief note to C G Jung initiating a correspondence that was to record the rise and fall of the close relationship between the founder of psychoanalysis and his chosen heir This correspondence is now available for the first time complete except for a few missing letters apparently lost long ago The letters some 360 in number span seven years and range in length from a postcard to a virtual essay of 1 500 words In accordance with an agreement between the writers sons Ernst Freud and Franz Jung the letters are published as documents without interpretation but with a detailed annotation that identifies more than 400 persons 500 publications and many literary and topical allusions Anna Freud comments The annotation has turned the correspondence truly into a history of the beginnings of psychoanalysis something that was very much needed and is not given anywhere else with the same attention to detail and inclusion of all the people in public life who either came to psychoanalysis for a while or turned violently against it from the beginning Every detail is necessary and enhances the value of the book There are appendixes facsimiles and contemporary photographs The index with bibliographical details is exhaustive As historical documents the letters reflect the early struggles of Freud and Jung in gaining acceptance for psychoanalysis Freud Jung s senior by twenty years patiently assesses the opposition cautioning the fiery Jung to concentrate more on his research than on answering the critics The two exchange candid opinions on their colleagues plan strategies for the advancement of their cause and most important share their experiences with patients and with the reading that led them to new scientific realizations The correspondence provides an account of the composition of many papers lectures and books of Freud Jung and their colleagues and describes the genesis of the journals conferences and international and local societies of the movement The decline of the correspondence documents Jung's increasing reluctance to accept the entire Freudian code and the growing bitterness that led to the mutual decision to end the correspondence and the relationship

Letters of C. G. Jung C.G Jung, 2015-06-05

In May 1956 in his eighty second year Jung first discussed with Gerhard Adler the question of the publication of his letters. Over many years Jung had often used the medium of letters to communicate his ideas to others and to clarify the interpretation of his work quite apart from answering people who approached him with genuine problems of their own and simply corresponding with friends and colleagues. Many of his letters thus contain new creative ideas and provide a running commentary on his work. From some 1 600 letters written by Jung between the years 1906-1961 the editors have selected over 1 000. Volume 2 contains 460 letters written between 1951 and 1961 during the last years of Jung's life when he was in contact with many people whose names are familiar to the English reader. These include Mircea Eliade, R. F. C. Hull, Ernest Jones, Herbert Read, J. B. Rhine, Upton Sinclair and Fr. Victor White. Volume 2 also contains an addenda with sixteen letters from the period 1915-1946 and a subject index to both volumes. The annotation throughout is detailed and authoritative.
