The Galactiad:

Fall of the Galactic Empire Rogue Planet Press, 2015-11-25 In a distant future the Galactic Empire stretches from one end of the Milky Way to the other Its capital lies on a soulless metallic world city close to Galactic Center its fortress planets guard every spiral arm At its heart its citizens dwell in sybaritic indulgence their lives eased by luxuries imported from the outer worlds whose populations toil as slaves beneath the stinging electro lash of the overseers For a million years the Empire has been expanding but its star cruisers can venture no further until a spacedrive is invented that can cross the unimaginable gulfs between this galaxy and Andromeda Now the Empire begins to turn inward The ensuing revolt will set the Galaxy at war Does this spell the end of Empire When it is gone what will take its place Freedom Or a tyranny far worse For now all the citizens of the galaxy can do is prepare themselves for the FALL OF THE GALACTIC EMPIRE The Galactic and Extragalactic Background Radiation International Astronomical Union. Symposium, 1990-08-31 Proceedings of the 139th Symposium of the International Astronomical Union on The Galactic and Extragalactic Background Radiation held in Heidelberg FRG June 12 16 1989 The Galactic Supermassive Black Hole Fulvio Melia, 2020-12-08 Here one of the world's leading astrophysicists provides the first comprehensive and logically structured overview of the many ideas and discoveries pertaining to the supermassive black hole at the galactic center known as Sagittarius A By far the closest galactic nucleus in the universe Sagittarius A alone can provide us with a realistic expectation of learning about the physics of strong gravitational fields and the impact of such fields on the behavior of matter and radiation under severe physical conditions Its proximity may even provide the opportunity to directly test one of general relativity's most enigmatic predictions the existence of closed pockets of space time hidden behind an event horizon The plethora of research on Sagittarius A since its discovery in 1974 has long seemed an interwoven pattern of loose threads No one has successfully synthesized this growing body of work into a manageable coherent book both for professional researchers and for students taking courses focusing on black holes and galactic nuclei until now With Fulvio Melia's The Galactic Supermassive Black Hole readers finally have at their disposal a one volume crucible of essential ideas logically streamlined but with thorough references for those wishing to explore the various topics in greater depth Suzaku Studies of White Dwarf Stars and the Galactic X-ray Background Emission Takayuki Yuasa, 2013-01-16 This thesis presents a study of the origin of an apparently extended X ray emission associated with the Galactic ridge The study was carried out with broadband spectra obtained from mapping observations in the Galactic bulge region conducted in 2005 2010 by the Suzaku space X ray observatory The spectra were analyzed with a newly constructed X ray spectral model of an accreting white dwarf binary that is one of the proposed candidate stars for the origin of the Galactic ridge emission in the higher energy band Fitting of the observed Galactic ridge spectra with the model showed that there is another spectral component that fills the gap between the observed X ray flux and the component expected from the accreting white dwarf spectral model in the lower energy band This additional soft spectral component was nicely explained by an X ray spectral model of normal stars The result together with previously reported high resolution imaging results strongly supports the idea that the Galactic ridge X ray emission is an assembly of dim discrete X ray point sources

Proceedings of the Galactic Center Workshop 2002, Astronomische Nachrichten Supplementary Issue 1/2003 Angela Cotera, Sera Markoff, Thomas R. Geballe, Heino Falcke, 2008-09-26 Our knowledge of the environment of the nucleus of our galaxy has been greatly enhanced by more extensive and sensitive observations at radio and infrared wavelengths the advent of high resolution x ray imaging and spectroscopy and considerable theoretical activity to understand the nucleus and its components and their activity The Galactic Center Workshop 2002 was organized to review recent research on the galactic center including the latest state of the art observations and important theoretical developments The workshop covered phenomena on scales ranging from the central several hundred parsecs to the central parsec and within Each topic was approached from both multi wavelength observational and theoretical perspectives

The Galactic Interstellar Medium W.B. Burton, B.G. Elmegreen, R. Genzel, 2006-04-18 The previous Saas Fee Advanced Course dedicated to the interstellar medium took place in 1972 The tremendous scientific advances that have occurred in this field since then in particular owing to the availability of receivers working at completely unexplored wavelength bands fully justified a new set of lectures As a consequence the members of the Swiss Society for Astrophysics and Astronomy voted that The Galactic Interstellar Medium should be the subject of the 1991 course The 21st Saas Fee Advanced Course took place in Les Diablerets from 18 to 23 March 1991 gathering together about 80 participants from all over the world but mostly from Europe According to a rule that has proved to lead to success but also to challenge the lecturers energy the format of a Saas Fee Advanced Course consists traditionally of 28 lectures of 45 minutes which take place in the morning and late afternoon leaving ample time for discussions self study hiking or skiing Despite the inordinate work load imposed this year's lecturers felt that the subject was sufficiently dense to increase the lecture time by 1/3 This proved judicious and left more time for questions and discussions during the lectures

A Note on the Galactic Radiation Exposure in Geomagnetically Unprotected Regions of Space Hermann J. Schaefer, 1966 Measurements of the galactic flux at low rigidities during the Years of the Quiet Sun 1964-65 indicate that the galactic radiation is still modulated at solar minimum with the differential flux at low rigidities strongly depressed Thus it is assumed that in space systems of low shielding no exceptionally large skin doses in a human target will result This is quite different from that occurring from trapped radiation and solar particle beams A conservative estimate for the total dose from galactic radiation at solar minimum including secondaries for 2π incidence is 50 millirads 24 hours with 5 to 8 per cent of this dose produced by high LET components If life shortening is used as criterion for long term effects the quoted exposure corresponds to a factor of 0.2 in the sense that 100 days of exposure would shorten the residual life span by 20 days Author

The Galactic Black Hole H Falcke, F Hehl, 2002-12-16 The supermassive black hole in the center of our Milky Way is the nearest such object and relatively easy to observe and study Not surprisingly therefore it is the best studied supermassive black hole Many astrophysical and even general relativistic effects can be investigated in great detail The Galactic Black Hole Lectures on General Relativity and Astrophysics provides a systematic introduction to the physics astrophysics and mathematics of black holes at a level suitable for graduate students postdocs and researchers in physics astrophysics astronomy and applied mathematics The focus is mainly on the supermassive black hole in the center of our Milky Way but the results can be easily generalized taking it as an example Leading international experts provide first hand accounts of the observational and theoretical aspects of this black hole Topics range from the properties of the Schwarzschild metric and the collapse of a black hole to quantum gravity and from the structure of the Galaxy to accretion of matter and the emission properties of the Galactic Center black hole

March-April 1967 Observations of the Galactic Spur and Their Interpretation Donald A. Guidice, 1971 An investigation of the brightness temperature distribution of the Galactic Spur in the northern hemisphere has been carried out for the 20 to 40 MHz frequency range Observations were made at 38 75 33 45 26 70 and 22 30 MHz during March April 1967 using the 1000 ft radio telescope of the Arecibo Ionospheric Observatory These observations supersede the very limited observations taken at Arecibo the previous year Descriptions of the observations and the data analysis are given Contour maps of the Galactic Spur corrected antenna temperature and brightness temperature for the four frequencies are presented covering the celestial region alpha 12h to 18h Delta 0 to 35 degrees The rainbow the minor spiral arm and the supernova remnant theories of the Spur s origin are discussed Author
