Small Craft Advisory Louis D. Rubin, 2007-12-01 Even readers who deem themselves confirmed landlubbers will warm to this charming memoir also offers the fine local color of coastal North Carolina Publishers Weekly When Louis Rubin was thirteen he built a leaky little boat and paddled it out to the edge of the ship channel in Charleston South Carolina where he felt the inexorable pull of the water In his sixties dozens of boats later sailboats powerboats inboards and outboards the pull is as strong as ever In the tradition established by Twain Conrad and Melville Small Craft Advisory explores man's longtime passion for boats Louis Rubin examines the compulsion that has prompted him and countless other non nautical persons to spend so much time and no small portion of their incomes on watercraft that they can use only infrequently As his new boat a cabin cruiser made of wood on a workboat hull is being built Rubin tells of his past boats and numerous boating disasters and draws a poignant comparison between his two passions watercraft and the craft of writing A wistful meditation on risk taking and a longing for a place where time never runs out The Washington Post Book World If the point of reading a memoir is to meet a person who is truly good company and maybe to have a little wisdom rub off at the same time Small Craft Advisory is a book to read The New York Times Book Review In describing the building of his boat he is describing the building of his life reasserting the shaping value of memory and imagination A gracefully written contemplation Library Journal Imagining

Our Time Lewis P. Simpson, 2007-01-01 Lewis P Simpson towers among scholars of American literary studies as an intellectual historian of the South and American literary culture and a revered essayist His last book Imagining Our Time offers a wide ranging erudite and enlightening look at the culture of letters in American society Primarily through an examination of the works of some of the leading writers of the twentieth century many of whom Simpson knew intimately this final volume provides insight into the struggles and concerns unique to prominent American thinkers literary artists and critics contemporary to his own lifetime Often moving from an intriguing anecdote or recollection to a rigorous discussion of ideas Simpson's style is captivating He begins with speculation on Eric Voegelin's interest in Julien Benda's polemic La Trahison des Clercs and follows with thoughts on the declining faith in the university as an embodiment of humanistic letters and learning surveying the American Republic as far back as Benjamin Franklin In successive chapters Simpson pays tribute to Malcolm Cowley as a hero of the literary art and probes Robert Penn Warren's fixation with Thomas Jefferson as manifested in the writing and complete rewriting of Brother to Dragons He ruminates on the vocation of the critic as practiced by Lionel Trilling and Diana Trilling and the literary and cultural politics of the 1930s Brief portraits of Andrew Lytle and Louis D Rubin Jr appear as well as a poignant argument for the autobiographical cast of Eudora Welty's writing A lengthy riveting consideration of Simpson's friend Walker Percy and Percy's quest for identity as a modern Christian novelist alienated from the society around him forms the core of the volume Fred Hobson's introduction fittingly rounds out Imagining Our Time offering an intimate appreciation of Lewis Simpson who will remain a giant among scholars of southern
